On Tuesday, June 5, a class of sixty-three members, including two women, will be graduated from the Lowell Textile school, the exercises being held in Southwick hall. The present class of graduates is one of the largest to complete the curriculum of studies at the biggest textile school in the world and President Charles H. Eames feels justly proud of the achievements of the class in the past four years.

During the year just closed, the affairs of the graduates were capably handled by the class officers, consisting of Everett Vernon Steele, president; Walter Francis Wheaton, vice president; Newton Gary Hardie, secretary-treasurer; George Paul Feindel, representative to the executive board; Everett Vernon Steele came to Lowell from Marblehead, where he makes his home. During the war he served with Admiral Sims as an ensign and saw considerable service in foreign waters. At Lowell, he was prominent in theatricals, and has served efficiently as president of the Alembic society, and secretary of the fraternal council.

Walter Francis Wheaton is a native of Worcester and he also saw service with Uncle Sam's ocean fleet during the war. He has held the vice presidency of the engineering society at Lowell and the editorship of "Text," the official Red and Black literary organ.

Newton Gary Hardie came all the way to Lowell from Birmingham, Ala. For three years he was a valuable asset to Lowell's athletic teams, being a shining light in baseball, football and basketball. He has also distinguished himself as a talented thespian in Lowell productions.

First Case of Violation of Dry Laws Since Gov. Smith Signed Repeal Dismissed by Magistrate

LOCAL OPPOSITION TO PROJECT TO MAKE MERRIMACK NAVIGABLE FROM LOWELL TO SEA

It was learned today that there will be local opposition at the Washington conference on June 13, to the proposition to make the Merrimack river navigable from Lowell to the sea, although the exact form it will assume has not been definitely decided. It is understood the opposition will be from the standpoint of excessive cost to the city in the matter of providing terminals and docks. In connection with this, it is interesting to know that according to the engineer's report of the 1914 conference, the city government of 1913 voted that the city should provide for public use such terminals and public landings as the commerce of the river should demand. As far as is known, this resolution, now ten years old, still is in effect, inasmuch as it never has been repealed, and unless some contrary action should be taken, the city would be required to provide such terminals should the river and harbor commission decide to widen the river channel and make the stream navigable as far as Lowell.

Declares Manufacturers Should Refuse to Deal With New Brockton Union

Says B. & S. W. U. Contract Has Stood the Test for Quarter of a Century

BROCKTON, June 2.—Declaring that the Brockton and Shoe Workers union contract with Brockton shoe manufacturers has stood the test for 25 years, ex-Governor William L. Douglas declared today that manufacturers should stand as a man in refusing to deal with the new union.

"By the present secession the strikers would change their contract with the manufacturers into a scrap of paper. In the same breath that they flout their solemn obligations, they also suggest a new contract which is more to their liking, and ask us to believe that it would be kept," Mr. Douglas says.

REPEALS STATE PROHIBITION LAW

Gov. Smith of New York Wipes Mullan-Gage Act Off Statute Books

Denounces Half of One Per Cent Standard as "Work of Fanatical Drys"

NEW YORK, June 2.—Governor Callaghan, arrested charged with possessing 110 gallons of wine, was discharged today by Magistrate Goodman on the ground that the court had no jurisdiction since the arrest was made after Governor Smith signed the repeal of the Mullan-Gage state prohibition enforcement act.

Magistrate Goodman ordered the policeman who arrested Callaghan to take him before a federal commissioner.

The case was the first violation of the dry laws to come before a state court since Gov. Smith signed the repeal.

David Rosenberg, arrested for alleged violation of the Mullan-Gage act two hours before the governor signed the repeal was held in $1000 bail for examination.

NO PETITIONS FROM LOWELL

Signatures Secured Here on Party Designation Bill Cannot Be Used

Time for Filing Expired at 5 P. M. Yesterday, But Mr. Cronin Didn't Know It

With petitions embracing more than 700 names asking for a statewide referendum on the recently passed party designation bill ready to be filed with the Lowell election commission at 5 p. m. today, it was learned this forenoon that the last hour for filing expired at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and that the name secured only after long hours of effort now have no value.

The work of securing signatures to the petitions in Lowell was in charge of Cornelius R. Cronin, representing Humphrey O'Sullivan, a member of the democratic state committee. Mr. Cronin said today he understood the last hour for filing was 5 o'clock this afternoon, but a telephone message from the office of the secretary of state substantiated the special despatch appearing in The Sun yesterday which stated that 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon was the zero hour.

Mr. Cronin had made all necessary arrangements with the local election commission to file the petitions at 5:15 o'clock today and naturally was continued to Last Page.

Coal Train Derailed—Herr Lutterbeck Sentenced by Belgian Court Martial

DUESSELDORF, June 2.—(By the Associated Press)—The main line railroad used by the French for the transportation of coal and coke out of the occupied Ruhr district was cut early today by the explosion of bombs. Both tracks were torn up for a considerable distance and traffic will be interrupted for some time.

A coal train, the crew of which was ignorant of the damage, was derailed. In two other cases contact bombs placed on tracks were exploded when struck by locomotives, both engines being derailed.

DUESSELDORF, June 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Herr Lutterbeck, acting president of the Duesseldorf district, was sentenced today by a Belgian court martial at Slerkrade, to 10 months' imprisonment on conviction of the charge of making insulting remarks about the Belgians.

Herr Lutterbeck has been a thorn in the side of the occupation authorities because he has been a prolific writer of letters of protest against the acts of the French and Belgian officials.

FIRE STARTING IN GRASS THREATENS CHURCH

A threatening blaze occurred at St. Columba's church in Mammoth road last evening. The quick discovery of the fire and the prompt arrival of the firemen prevented the flames from spreading and the fire was confined to the outside stairs, which were destroyed.

The fire is believed to have been caused by a lighted cigarette thrown in the grass near the church. The grass caught and the fire quickly spread to the stairs. An alarm was sounded from box 71, at the corner of Mammoth road and Woodward avenue, at 9:02 o'clock and Fireman John J. McManis, who happened along at the time, rushed to the church and was endeavoring to remove the stairs when other members of the department arrived on the scene. Chemical lines were used but it was found necessary to tear down the stairs in order to prevent the flames from spreading to the building proper.

Before the fire department arrived, Rev. James M. Somers, who was in the rectory when the fire was discovered, rushed into the church and removed the Host and sacred vessels from the church to the rectory.

Men Must Resign to Get Compensation

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Members of the naval reserve force must resign or be discharged from the service in order to receive further disability compensation under the war war risk act, under a ruling of Comptroller General McCarl, announced today by Director Hines of the veterans' bureau. Heretofore reserve men have received the compensation. The comptroller general based his decision on a section of the war risk act, which provides that compensation shall not be paid "while the person is in receipt of service or retirement pay." Members of the reserve force who have been transferred to it after 18 to 20 years' service will not be disqualified from receiving compensation, however, it being held that their pay then becomes reduced retired pay which will not be affected by the ruling.

To Present Antiques to British Museum

LONDON, June 2.—The late Earl of Carnarvon's private collection of antiques which included some of the most valuable Egyptian relics will be presented by his wife to the nation for the British museum, says the Daily Mail. Lady Carnarvon thereby sacrifices the prospect of greatly adding to her wealth, for the earl's will stipulated that if she decided to sell the collection, the British museum should be accorded the first chance to refuse it for £20,000. This sum is said to be far below the real value of the treasures. The newspaper asserts that the prospective gift to the nation will include whatever part of the treasure found in Pharaoh Tutankhamun's tomb is allotted to Carnarvon's estate by the Egyptian authorities.

German Dyestuffs and Nitrates Seized

PARIS, June 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Confiscations by the French of dyestuffs and nitrates at Strasbourg, Oppau and other places are said to more than cover the deliveries required of Germany under the Versailles treaty. The French estimate that they will realize 200,000,000 francs from the dyes seized at the various plants of the Badische Aniline works. British and Italian representatives on the reparations commission were present at the seizure of the materials, presenting the requirements of their countries.

Had Nervous Indigestion

This Springfield Woman Found Quick Relief When She Used the Tonic Treatment

"I had nervous indigestion for about four years," says Mrs. S. Lewis, of No. 65 Tilton street, Springfield, Mass. "I first noticed that I was losing flesh and felt miserable much of the time. I had severe nervous spells. I suffered from pain after eating, especially in my left side. I saw Dr. Williams' Pink Pills recommended in the papers and gave them a trial. I noticed improvement while I was taking the first box and took four boxes altogether. I can truthfully say that the pills have certainly helped my stomach and that I feel better than I have in a long time and I shall use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills whenever I need a tonic."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an ideal tonic for nervous people because they are non-alcoholic and nervous patients should avoid alcoholic stimulants.

"Two useful books, 'Diseases of the Nervous System,' and 'What to Eat and How to Eat,' will be sent free by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., if you mention this paper. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents per box.—Adv.

HE'S ONLY U. S. OFFICIAL WITHOUT A BOSS!

(By N.E.A. Service)
WASHINGTON, June 1.—Probably the only man in the United States—at least in government circles—who is absolutely his own boss is J. R. McCarl, a Nebraskan.

McCarl is controller general of the United States. His business is to head the general accounting office which holds a restraining finger over the spending of Uncle Sam's money.

McCarl holds office 15 years and he's accountable to nobody—not even the president. If he proves negligent or inefficient, however, congress can remove him.

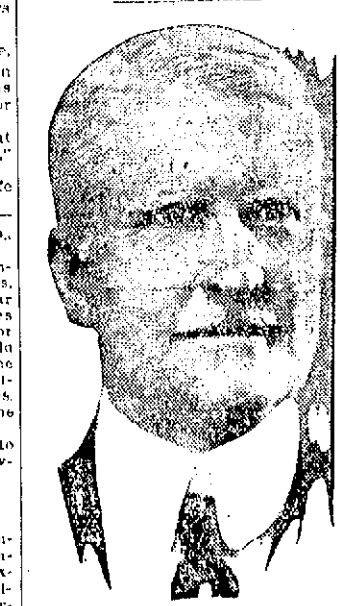

Already the wide authority given to McCarl has brought him into conflict with cabinet officers who resent any outside interference with their departments.

Secretary of the Navy Denby, for one, got hot under the collar when McCarl directed a navy disbursing officer to get back the money involved in an overpayment of compensation to an enlisted man.

McCarl also had a clash with Fall while the latter still was in the cabinet.

But McCarl goes serenely along saving money for the taxpayers. Others can hoot and howl all they want to but—

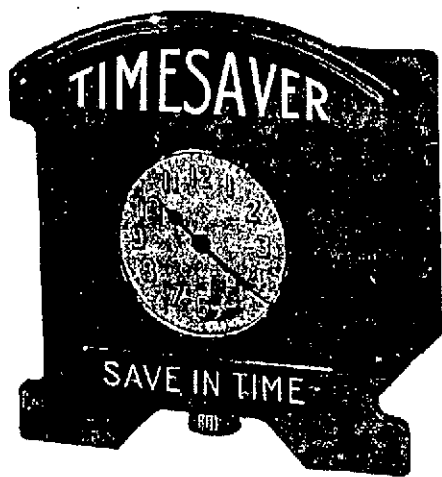

McCarl's his own boss!

ROYAL S. COPELAND IS SOME SENATOR

BY EDWARD THIERRY
(N.E.A. Service Staff Writer)
NEW YORK, June 2.—Mr. John C. Copeland, who has been in the Senate for only a few days, is already making a name for himself. "Those things," says Senator Royal S. Copeland, "which he kicks about most, I know, because I have opened a Senatorial Kicking Bureau."

And these, Copeland finds, are the four chief problems in the eyes of the average citizen who has kicked against the government:

1. Immigration.
2. Soldier welfare.
3. Tax.
4. Prohibition.

"Yes, in the order named," said the new junior senator from New York. "Lots of other things, too. It's amazing how many people have kicked against the government."

Dr. Copeland—he says he'd rather be called Doc than Senator—shocked politicians, as well as citizens, so unaccustomed to such public service, by opening an office in a Broadway skyscraper for the sole purpose of receiving people who want to talk about their troubles.

Room 2202, Fisk building, has this unostentatious inscription: "Royal S. Copeland, Walk In." It isn't his medical office, for that's uptown at his house, where he puts in a couple of hours each morning seeing patients. At 11 he is at Room 2202, and until 6 he works as a United States senator, eating lunch off a leaf of his desk, playing Uncle Sam to a stream of callers, and directing nine stenographers who help him answer upwards of 300 letters a day.

"People like to kick," said Copeland. "They like to think of senators and congressmen as their servants, and coming to their troubles, hearing their suggestions, advising them and consoling them. The government is intangible, and they don't like that. They want it symbolized in a human being—a sort of living Uncle Sam. That's why I opened my New York office, because everybody who has a kick to register with Uncle Sam can't afford a trip to Washington."

Copeland said the government pays salaries only of four clerks in his office in the senate building at Washington. He says he expects his salary of $7500 a year will cover only his living expenses. And New York office rents are high!

"Most of the kicks I get are absurd," he said. "Many are legitimate, and some are pathetic. I can't help most of them, but I can save many wounds. Even if I can't solve their problems, it helps them a lot to know somebody is willing to listen, and that helps Americanization and discourages discontent, and perhaps in some cases even kills potential seeds of anarchy."

Copeland was city health commissioner of New York until he became senator March 4. He says senators and congressmen ought to work at their jobs even when congress isn't in session.

"I got this idea of opening a Kicking Bureau," he said, "after watching the senate in action last December. The Senate resolution was up for discussion and out of 96 senators the maximum attendance that day was 48, the minimum seven and the average 21!"

AMUSEMENT NOTES

R. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Excellent Bill, Headed by the Great Leon. Will Be Offered for the Coming Week

Tomorrow's bill at the R. F. Keith theatre will once more demonstrate just how classy Sunday entertainment is at this theatre. Jack Norron & Co. will be the feature line, and after them will come "Seniors," Ford, Lloyd & Fiske, Nell O'Connell and Regan & Platt. Two brand new acts will be on the bill for the day also.

Next Monday, opening the final week of vaudeville at this theatre, will see an act presented which came here direct from the Keith Palace theatre in New York. Leon & Co. marvellous comedy illusionists will comprise this act. One of the most mystifying comedy tricks while Leon will perform is that in which he shoots a long spike through the body of his woman assistant, and to this spike there is attached a long ribbon. Leon has been offered almost fabulous sums for the secret of this trick, but he has steadfastly refused all of them. While performing this illusion in India, several years ago, Leon was offered four rupees by a Hindu conjuror, or "fakir," as he is called. Mr. Leon refused to sell it, and after seeing it the "fakir" tried several times to perform it, but without complete success. During the course of his experimenting the Hindu fatally wounded three women. Mr. Leon claims that once he had mastered the trick there was nothing whatever harmful about it. He discovered the secret of it about 10 years ago. It is now one of the most talked-of features of an act which bristles with startling things.

George Rockwell and Al Fox will be present on this bill with their molli nitty act. The twins are a remarkable pair of ad lib funny-makers who have a lot of original stuff to offer.

Pat Barrett and Nora Cunneen in "Looking for Fun" are simply one of the most beautiful women on the vaudeville stage. "All in the Spirit of Jest" is the title of the turn which Jack La Vier, noted monologist, will present and Walthour & Princeton are a snappy pair of singing and comedy performers. Tabor &

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

"Brass," Charles G. Norris' Novel of Married Life, With Monte Blue, Feature Next Week

The screen version of Major Charles G. Norris' novel, "Brass," with Monte Blue portraying the role of Philip Baldwin, comes to the Merrimack Square theatre tomorrow for four days. This picture, which is enjoying unusual popularity, is a realistic treatment of marriage and divorce.

The picture is said to retain the vividness characteristic of the novel. The setting of the story is in sunny California, first in a prosperous rural community, then shifting to bustling San Francisco, where most of the action passes.

The queer domestic life of the young married Baldwins is the theme around which the story is spun. Philip is an busy storming the gates of fortune during the day that he longs for the home of evenings, while his wife, Marie, a pliant slip of a girl, doesn't see why having a baby should keep her away from cabarets, gay boon companions and a generally good time.

They get divorced; each goes separate ways, falling in love but in the end feeling the gap in their lives. The end is developed in a whirlwind climax.

"Brass" is a Warner Brothers classic of the screen, directed by Sidney Franklin. Monte Blue's supporting cast consists of Marie Prevost, Harry Myers, Vera Lewis, Irene Rich, Frank Krenan, Miss DuPont, Margaret Seddon, Helen Ferguson, Edward Johnson, Harvey Clark, Cyril Chadwick, Pat O'Malley, Gertrude Bennett and Ethel Grey Terry.

AUTO-INTOXICATION

Generally Due to Constipation and Corrected by "Fruit-a-tives" the Famous Fruit Medicine

Albany, Vermont.
"For three years, I was troubled with Constipation, would go for days without a movement, depended upon purgatives. My condition was growing worse, my whole system being affected by the absorption of impurities.

Various remedies and treatments proved worthless. At last, it was my good fortune to get hold of "Fruit-a-tives." They completely relieved me of chronic Constipation and removed all distressing symptoms due to this complaint.

"Send anyone to me who doubts the value of 'Fruit-a-tives'."

N. K. MARTIN.

Auto-Intoxication is blood poisoning, due to Constipation or non-action of the bowels. Impurities, which should leave the body every day, remain in the system for three or four days at a time. This waste matter poisons the blood, and the poisoned blood in turn poisons every organ of the body. According to leading authorities, this is responsible for hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure, severe headaches, pain in the back, kidney trouble and much of the stomach trouble caused by gas.

"Fruit-a-tives," made from fruit juices and tonics, will always correct Constipation and protect you against Auto-Intoxication. 50¢ a box, 4 for $2.50, trial size 25¢. At dealers or sent by

THE STRAND

Donn Byrne's Story, "The Stranger's Banquet," Will Be the Attraction at The Strand First Four Days of the week

"The Stranger's Banquet," that striking American novel of a great shipyard, written by Donn Byrne, will be seen at The Strand for four days, beginning Sunday. In fact, the film, by that master producer, Marshall Neilan, in association with Goldwyn Pictures Corporation. The use of an entire shipyard was obtained for filming the exterior. Neilan, his actors, and hundreds of workmen at the yards, made use of them after working hours, for weeks. This photograph comes to Lowell hailed as the greatest picture made by Neilan. He devoted many months of arduous work to picturing the famous shipyard. In fact, the producer admitted holding up the entire production for many months until he could get just what he most desired for every minute detail. The story is a thrilling and dramatic romance amid the busy yards of a great shipbuilding concern. The founder, Stuart Holmes, leaves the fortune he has accumulated through the yards to his two children, John and Bertha. There are many "Strangers" who who by test of the golden banquet and the story is of their paralytic success and final frustration. The romance in the building of mighty ships has been caught in the film and made the vivid background for a very human, emotion-arousing drama of American life. It has an angle of appeal for every lover of pictures and is told as only such a master artist as Neilan can depict it. Hearty, humorous and really are mingled into a rousing and compelling whole which no one can ever forget. Apart from the worth of the story and the picture, the picture is a masterpiece of interpretation, particularly in the part of the young man, played by Stuart Holmes, an outstanding feature of this presentation. No such cast of stars has ever been gathered for a picture. Claire Windsor, Hobart Bosworth, Rockliffe Fellowes, Nigel Barrie, Claude Gillingwater, Eleanor Boardman, Frank Krenan, Stuart Holmes, Margaret Loomis, Cyril Chadwick and many others have important roles. A brief survey of this list should convince the average patron that at least in cast it is of worth while even sequence. See it Sunday in connection with the regular vaudeville.

"Gossip" is the thing that can destroy any state of happiness, no matter how secure it may seem. Harmony will turn into discord at the breath of "Gossip" and contentment will develop into a mass of sour acid. "Gossip" is the vice that is exploited in satirical fashion in the picture of that title which comes to The Strand Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, in connection with "The Stranger's Banquet." Gladys Walton is the star and it presents her with a role that affords her exceptional opportunity to reflect her every talent. As a southern girl, charmingly innocent of the general advance of the times she is quite out of place in the jazz whirl of modern social and business life. "Gossip" is based on the popular story. "When Carey Came to Town." Miss Walton has a capable cast assisting her. For the last three days of the week Hope Hamilton in "The Light in the Dark," and Katherine MacDonald in "The Infidel" will be featured. In the former Miss Hamilton is assisted by Lon Chaney and a notable cast while Miss MacDonald is assisted by Robert Ellis, Joseph Dowling and others of screen note.

A word to the patrons concerning strand comfort. It's always cool and comfortable at this theatre, made so because of the special ventilating system which allows a change of air every few minutes and the possibility of keeping the temperature at least 15 or 20 degrees lower than the summer heat of the street. Comfort brings contentment. Try it at The Strand.

RIALTO THEATRE
Douglas Fairbanks, versatile screen performer is the leading attraction of the Rialto theatre for Sunday's attractions. He is appearing in one of his greatest successes, entitled "His Majesty, the American" and it is one of the most laughable productions in which the great star ever appeared. Another big attraction on the same program has Alice Calhoun in "One Sullen Night" and this too, is worthy of considerable mention. The other attractions on Sunday's program include a snappy comedy and the Pathe News.

BEAUTY EXPERT TELLS HOW TO KEEP YOUR FACE YOUNG

Attention Must Be Paid to Lines
In the Neck To Keep Face Young

BY MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN
International Beauty Expert

The neck needs fully as much attention as the face, for long before the face shows signs of age, the throat indicates its approach.

I always say to my patients, "Judge how young you look by your throat and hands and don't wait for your face to give you away."

If you see horizontal lines across the neck or dry patches below the lobes of your ears, don't hesitate a minute before beginning an anti-wrinkle treatment on your face.

Methods of treatment for the neck are in many ways the same as for the face, but as the neck is bound to come in contact with water when you take your bath, you must be rather more liberal in your use of cream upon it.

Many actresses famed for their beauty apply cream before entering the bath and protect the throat from the water and soap which is often injurious.

A thin neck, which shows a tendency to wrinkle, must be massaged nightly with a tissue building cream which should be patted gently into the skin.

The woman who has a tendency toward superfluous flesh and who finds her chin doubling or tripling on her has a really serious problem to contend with.

Massage for the double chin should be done with very heavy strokes which will break down the fat cells. Astringent lotions should be applied frequently to tighten the skin. Slapping the chin briskly with the back of the hand also breaks down the fat formation.

As soon as a woman loses her contour, when her lines become indefinite or heavy, and when she no longer presents a clean-cut outline, her claim to youth is gone no matter how good a case the calendar may make out for her.

Never before have women had such a keen appreciation of the beauty of line. A generation ago the woman who doted and kept her figure down was the exception. Today, practically four women out of five who have come into their thirties are dieting.

Diet is one of the first steps toward beauty. The woman who will restrain her appetite and indulge in hours of exercise to preserve her figure will also give to her face, hands and hair the care they demand.

Every day, in every way, women are becoming more and more beautiful.

No gallery of feminine beauty is complete without the face of Ethel Barrymore, who probably comes nearer than any other woman to typifying the American ideal of womanhood. Though her features are lovely indeed, and her coloring superb, one has always the feeling that her real beauty comes from within and is only the reflection of her character.

Sprinkle with one teaspoon or more of salt, one-half teaspoon paprika and one-eighth teaspoon pepper, and cook in three tablespoons butter, stirring until the butter is melted. Then add two tablespoons sour cream and stir until it is thoroughly mixed, the potatoes. Add one cup of milk and one-half cup of cream, and cook, stirring frequently, for 15 minutes.

Turn into a baking dish which can be served at the table, cover with one-half cup grated cheese mixed with one-half cup fine bread crumbs. Bake 20 minutes, having crumbs and cheese delicately brown when taken from the oven. Serve very hot.

WANT QUICK ACTION?

Atlanta Leader, Busy as
She Is, Will Get It
For You

By N.E.A. Service
ATLANTA, Ga., June 2.—Whenever you want anything done, go to a busy person and you'll be sure of quick action.

MRS. B. M. BOYKIN

In Atlanta, therefore, you go to Mrs. B. M. Boykin for any civic or other local reform—and you may depend on her to find time to get things done.

Mrs. Boykin is president of the Atlanta Women's club and is largely responsible for the palatial clubhouse which is a challenge to women's clubs throughout the country. But that's only one of her minor accomplishments.

"We should have better motion pictures for our children," wailed the mothers of Atlanta. "Some of the things they see are entirely unsuitable for the impressionable mind of the school child."

Children's Matinees
"Then we'll get better pictures and support them," replied Mrs. Boykin.

So she organized a better films committee composed of parents, teachers, and welfare workers and arranged for them to preview all films sent to Atlanta, to select pictures best suited for the children's matinees which she arranged to have held each Saturday morning in the local houses.

Then the children themselves were permitted to help in the rest of the program and sometimes to act in the prologues. Educational films, which would cooperate with school work were obtained and the music for the program explained the week before in school.

The result is a children's weekly matinee that is one of Atlanta's greatest prizes to which any mother may send her child each week and know nothing objectionable will be shown.

But the work did not stop here.

For Growuppers Too
"We found that growuppers needed better films as well as the children," Mrs. Boykin explained. "So each week we publish our recommendations of all the pictures that are to be shown the following week. We have no affiliations with any company, are unbiased in our judgment and people trust us."

"A picture we recommended is almost sure to do good business and one we find objectionable rarely does. That shows people want good pictures and to make money the exhibitor must provide them."

"Our opinions are observed not only in Atlanta, but throughout the south. Often I receive telegrams from exhibitors a thousand miles away, asking the opinion of our committee on certain films. We have promoted the best of feeling between the theatre owners and the public they serve and we believe are mutually helpful."

New Job Open to Women Who Would Make Drudgery a Delight, Says Teacher

BY MARIAN HALE
NEW YORK, June 2.—The efficiency expert is needed more in the kitchen than in the factory.

Mrs. Newton C. Wing, head of the home economics department of the Atlanta Women's club, is speaking. Stopping here, she gave me her ideas on the "job" of keeping house and how it could be lightened considerably by a little planning.

"The place where most women do a large part of their work and spend many hours a day is too frequently designed with no thought for comfort to say nothing of beauty," she told me. "If housework is to be transformed from drudgery to delight, the revolution must start in the kitchen."

"The ideal kitchen is small, but not crowded. The walls should be covered with washable material such as tile, enamel or any washable paint. The floor should be covered with linoleum, well waxed."

"The stove, table, sink and other pieces of furniture should be grouped according to their use so that extra steps may be avoided."

Even dishwashing may be robbed of its terrors if it is done according to the most scientific methods, she maintains.

Time Gained
"The sink, with its two large drain boards, should be placed next to the dining-room or pantry," Mrs. Wing advised. "The dirty dishes should be placed on the right-hand drain board where they may be picked up by the dishwasher's right hand, scrubbed under running water by a brush in the left hand and then put into the dishpan."

"Into the hot dishwater should be put one tablespoon of washing powder. Use a dishpan and place the dishes in a drainer at the left. By the time you are ready to do the kettles and cooking dishes, they will be dry and can be put into the china closet, out of the way."

"Draining the dishes, scalded by boiling water, is more sanitary than wiping them with a dishcloth."

There should be a rest corner with a desk and bookcase above for working on kitchen accounts and keeping books, thus utilizing the spare moments which often occur in the kitchen while meals are cooking."

Mrs. Wing has several hundred women in her classes, many of whom are recent brides.

Steps Saved
"The stove should be next to the dining-room door, across from the sink, to facilitate serving. Thus a tea wagon can be used to take food directly from the stove to the dining-room and also to bring soiled dishes from the table to the sink."

"On the opposite side from the stove should be the kitchen cabinet and working table."

"If the kitchen is sufficiently large there should be a rest corner with a desk and bookcase above for working on kitchen accounts and keeping books, thus utilizing the spare moments which often occur in the kitchen while meals are cooking."

Mrs. Wing has several hundred women in her classes, many of whom are recent brides.

MONOGRAMMED COAT
Monograms have become so popular they are now appearing on coats. A blue serge suit is bound with red and belted and monogrammed in the same color. The monogram appears on the sleeve.

The fruit salad Chantilly is made of several fruits easily obtained which, after being cut into pieces, are marinated with oil, lemon juice, sugar and salt. Use three parts oil to one part lemon juice. When thoroughly chilled serve on lettuce with whipped cream, salted to taste, the whole to be dusted with paprika.

Girl Genius Produces Music for Flower Festival—Mother Writes Verses

EDNA L. LARKIN AND HER MOTHER, EDNA IN A FIELD OF TULIPS.

By N.E.A. Service
BELLINGHAM, Wash., June 2.—When Bellingham celebrated its annual tulip festival recently, little nine-year-old Edna L. Larkin was the proud heroine of the occasion.

For it was her own tulip love song that thousands sang during the three days of the festival, and the gentle words of her mother that soothed her ears.

Edna is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edmund F. Larkin of this city. From early childhood she developed a love for music, and when she showed talent at improvising tunes, her parents encouraged her. She has grown so proficient with the bow, that now, at the age of nine, she plays first violin in the D'Arville orchestra and in the junior orchestra of the Bellingham Normal school.

First Success
"Tulip Love"—the rollicking waltz sung at the festival—is Edna's first big success, although she had been submitting bits of her genius to her parents ever since she felt music in her system. The tune came to her when she was toying at the piano—another of her accomplishments—and her mother was away.

When Mrs. Larkin returned, Edna showed her the song. Mrs. Larkin was so impressed by it that she sat down and wrote verses for it.

But little Edna didn't like her mother's first attempt. So Mrs. Larkin had to resume her efforts until she got what her daughter finally agreed bespoke the thoughts she expressed in her music. It was the romance and courtship of the spring flowers.

The completed song, to little Edna's music, is this:

Tulip Love
Come, let us go a-maying, o'er the hills where tulips grow.
There dainty flower maidens dance while the gentle breezes blow.
Daffodils and jonquils, flower lovers hold—
They come to woo with honeyed words and offering crowns of gold.

Refrain
Come, dear tulip, dance with me.
Love shall never grow cold.
Oh, let me press your crimson lips
To my loving heart of gold.

Edna's Song
Come to the tulip's wedding on the verdant village green.
There the golden daffodil is wedded to his queen.
Bumble-bees the parson, frogs their music trill.
While the busy honeybees serve supper on the hill.

PINK ROSES
A hat of very fine black Milan has a cluster of pink roses placed at the right side. A veil of very fine black lace softens the cloche brim.

HOT DISHES
Have a supply of holders in your kitchen for handling hot dishes. Otherwise you will find yourself using dishcloths which may burn over the flame.

WALL PAPER
In a south room use a light gray paper, with possibly a rough finish, which is an excellent background for almost any type of interior decorating. In a north room use yellow, tan or some warm tint.

DON'T FORGET WRAPS, WHEN YOU GO BATHING THIS SUMMER

If You've Sleeves at All,
They Must Be Bizarre

Where sleeves exist at all on summer dresses they are startling, bizarre or gaily frilled. Present or absent they are the important thing about the season's styles. The long tight sleeve has added ruffles from wrist to elbow. The otherwise sleeveless frock is shown with a circular band attached to the dress and crossing the arm several inches below the shoulder. Long wide sleeves vary their lines by being cut to gracefully drooping points. Skirts draped continue in favor and pleated panels are seen more and more as the season advances.

WILL OBSERVE ANNUAL COMMUNION SUNDAY

Members of the League of Catholic Women will observe their annual communion Sunday at the 5:30 o'clock mass in St. Patrick's church tomorrow. A musical program, in charge of Mrs. Joseph W. Green, with John Kelly, organist, will be carried out during the services. Miss Ellen F. Lynch will sing "Ave Verum" at the offertory and at the communion Miss Clotilda Delany will sing Bishop Delany's "Come to Me, Jesus." Hymns will be sung by the girls' choir of the Notre Dame academy and the congregation.

The ushers at the church will be Mrs. John F. Saunders, Miss Mary D. Lang, Mrs. David Mahoney, Miss Jant McCall, Miss Nellie Bourke, Miss Mary T. Lynch, Miss Alice T. McCarthy and Miss Kivlan.

FOR YOUNGSTERS
Washable China silk in checks and plaids and polka dots is used to make frocks for small children. Frequently a touch of some bit of trimming repeats the color in the design.

PLEATED CAPE
The cape of finely pleated crepe which lies about the shoulders and reaches well below the neckline is very fashionable now and is very easy to make.

You'll Find You're Out of Style at the Beaches
If You Should Forget Your Wrap When You Go Bathing

When you dress up in your fancy bathing suit, this summer, and are all ready to go out to the beach—to watch the waves—don't forget your wrap! For it will be a breach of beach fashion to go without one this year. In fact, the wrap is considered quite as necessary as the bathing suit itself.

TESTIMONIALS FOR DIO-ART
In the palaces of Europe and the beautiful homes of America, the importance of music has brought appointments and purchases of the Aeolian pianos, pianolas and the Duo-Art. Recent appointments have been received from His Holiness, Pope Pius XI; Her Majesty, Mary, Queen of England; Her Majesty, Elizabeth, Queen of the Belgians; Her Majesty, Victoria Eugenie, Queen of Spain. The following cablegram recently received by M. Steinert & Sons, 130 Merrimack street, this city, representative here, from the Aeolian Company, Ltd., London, is self-explanatory:

"We are gratified to advise you that we have received an order for a Duo-Art Piano from Her Majesty, the Queen of England. The instrument has been installed in Buckingham Palace."

The Aeolian company testimonials praising the Aeolian instrument have come from international opera stars such as the late Caruso, Melba, Calve, Farrar, Schumann-Heink and many others. It is not possible to publish here the many letters of appreciation received during the present times from people of prominence, but it is a well known fact that distinguished persons in all walks of life have acclaimed the supremacy of the Duo-Art.

FOULARD FROCKS
A foulard frock with a smart tiered skirt is smart enough in itself, but it becomes doubly so when combined with a light wool coat lined with the same material of the frock.

PAINTED SILK
Painted silk frocks are a novelty this season. The paint is applied rather thickly to give a raised surface. The frocks are cut on the straight chemise pattern and only loosely caught about the waist with a sash of plain silk.

the street wrap. Some of them, as the one shown in the center above, conform in design with the bathing suit. But that isn't essential. What is important is that it be worn on the way to the beach. Else you're not in fashion.

RIBBON ONLY TRIMMING

Frequently the only trimming used on summer dresses of light silks or cottons is ribbon. The ribbon may be very narrow, metallic grosgrain, two-toned or figured—or it may be very wide—more for preference—but it is used to make a dress that would otherwise be severely plain, individually pretty and desirable.

Ribbon is used in strips like braid. It is sewed into flat rosettes, used for long sashes and bouffant bustle-bows or placed in an enormous chon at the waist. Hats to match have rows and rows of ribbon covering their crowns or facing their brims.

ORGANDE HATS
Large organdie hats, in blue, apricot and henna, have adjustable crowns and wide brims. The crown is secured with fancy pins.

WOOL EMBROIDERY
A great deal of wool embroidery is seen on cotton frocks as well as those of silk and wool.

COOKING FAT
Save and clarify all fat from cooking.

SERVING SOUP
Never serve heavy cream soups for a first course unless the second one is a light one of vegetables or fish.

WATER IN CAKE
You can often use water in mixing a cake instead of milk and find that the cake will be richer in texture and less liable to scorch.

Pleats, Ruffles, Smocking,
Trim Summer Frocks

Thin summer dresses achieve charming effects by the use of smocking, pleats and ruffles. Loden was the material used for the straight-line dress with full-length pleats sketched in the illustration. The new side-closing is attractive and the frock with its long, plain sleeves and narrow belt has an air of once simple and fashionable. Very short sleeves make the center

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

The Looker-on in Lowell

Visiting the main postoffice during the past week, I found the place very busy. Repairs and improvements have been going on for several weeks, causing much inconvenience on the part of postoffice employees. It was during the rush hours of the afternoon that I went in to see Joseph Meehan, superintendent of mails, and I found him busy supervising the moving of certain equipment out of the way of the contractors. The postoffice looked more crowded and messed-up than I had ever seen it.

If people who have big mailings every day, or frequently, could only see how crowded the postoffice is during the latter part of the afternoon when the bulk of the day's mail is received, they would surely take pity on the postoffice employees and put into practice the slogan: "Mail early and often." With such masses of mail and parcel post matter, it is surprising how efficiently the clerks sort it out and keep everything straight.

North vs. South
A statement issued recently by the National Bank of Commerce in New York concerning the development of the cotton manufacturing industry in the United States, gives interesting facts relative to the advance of the south and the alleged decline of the north.

It attributes the great gains of the cotton textile mills in the south to the fact that the south has a more abundant supply of raw material, lower taxation, and cheaper labor, which may be added longer working hours.

Weighted against these facts are the advantages the north has in proximity to the market for their goods; a quality of goods superior to southern mill products which is attributed largely to the skill of operatives here.

Southern mills have for a long time consumed more cotton than the northern mills. The National Bank of Commerce says. Previously the larger consumption was attributed to the coarser yarn spun in the south, but statistics show that the heavy consumption is due to a much bigger total of active spindle hours in the south.

A significant feature of the southern textile industry is, that the medium sized mill employing from 50 to 100 hands prevails, most of the larger mills being located outside of the cotton growing states.

Weekly cotton mill wages have regularly been lower in the south than in the north; but the difference is rapidly beginning to narrow down according to this New York bank. More is also done for employees in the south than in the north in furnishing cheap housing and other benefits which do not appear as direct wage costs.

The bank gives the following summary: "For the present, at least, mills can find cheaper labor which will work longer hours in the cotton-growing states than elsewhere, though the weekly wage is tending to advance more rapidly in the south than in the north. The southern labor, also, is acquiring more skill from year to year, so that the advantage in quality of product now possessed by New England may gradually disappear. Probably the most marked advantage of a southern location is the fact that longer hours of work prevail there and that even though there is a movement toward shorter hours, changes so far have been less radical there than elsewhere."

1912 and 1923.

FITCH DECLARES MOUNT COMMITTED SUICIDE

LUDINGTON, Mich., June 2. (By the Associated Press).—Reverend Conklin Fitch of Ludington, was preparing to go to Chicago today to substantiate a story he told here yesterday to representatives of the state's attorney's office from Illinois to the effect that Leighton Mount, supposed to have been slain during a class rush at Northwestern university in 1921, in reality had committed suicide.

Fitch's statement, made in the presence of the attorney and his father, Virgil A. Fitch, prosecuting attorney of Mason county, is said to have given as the basis for the assertions the contents of a letter written by Mount to Doris Fuchs, a girl friend and reports said to have been stolen from the Burns detective agency.

Scant details of the statement were revealed to the Associated Press by the elder Fitch who said he had persuaded his son to tell all he knew. According to the youth's statement the letter written by Mount to Miss Fuchs contained a threat of suicide, while the reports of the Burns agency were said to have contained information that Mount, two days before his disappearance, had transferred all of his money to the affianced husband of his sister Helen.

VANDALISM AT FORT HILL PARK

IMPORTANT BALL GAMES ON LOWELL AND SUBURBAN DIAMONDS

Veteran Pitcher Makes Big Start

GEORGE DAUSS

Is Dame Fortune about to smile on George Dauss late in his pitching career?

George Dauss for years has been a member of the Detroit staff of the American league. His pitching efforts have met with varying success. Never has he quite reached the heights of stardom.

He has always regarded Dauss as one of the best pitchers in the American league. Perhaps no man connected with the game is in a better position to judge the worth of a pitcher than the umpire. Likewise no one is better fitted to make comparisons.

To me George Dauss has always been a great pitcher. In baseball one is always judged on results. In the record book for a pitcher to attain the realm of stardom he must be a consistent pitcher.

Batters Fear Dauss

Another way to get a line on a pitcher's effectiveness is to get the opinion of the opposing batters. American league players will tell you that Dauss has as much stuff as any pitcher in the league and a much better curve ball than a majority. In addition most of them will tell you that they do not like to hit against Dauss. This admission in itself is the best line one could possibly get on a pitcher. When opposing batters admit his style of delivery is such they do not wish facing him immediately. The pitcher secures a decided advantage.

There you have the status of George Dauss. With little or no pitching motion his ball is on the batter quickly. This has a tendency to throw the batsman off his stride and make it a much more difficult matter to correctly time the speed of the ball.

Dauss Is Great Pitcher

Dauss has excellent speed, which he delivers with a peculiar side-arm motion. Side-arm pitchers are always troublesome. Coupled with a good fast ball, Dauss boasts a fast breaking curve that is almost unhitatable when properly controlled. A fine change of pace tends to make his style all the more puzzling.

In every ball club, however, there seems to be one hard-luck pitcher. Dauss has year after year occupied that position on the Detroit team. Fate always seemed unkind to him.

When Dauss pitched right ball his opponent usually worked a bit tighter, as a result his teammates seldom got him many runs. In a pinch, an error made behind Dauss invariably proved costly. It was always the same, the cracks in a majority of cases seemed to go exactly where Dauss and in a great many cases the breaks are the deciding factor in a ball game.

Getting the Breaks

Dauss has seldom been an early starter. Usually he has had his troubles getting off to a winning start. This looks to be the big year for Dauss.

In his first five starts he has been returned the victor. In each game he has pitched good ball, the brand that deserves to win but doesn't always come out that way.

In every game the breaks have been with George. Instead of frowning on him, as in the past, Dame Fortune has smiled on him most graciously.

Dauss is a great pitcher, deserving of several big years before he passes from the big show.

Lewis and Clark Once Camped Where Dempsey Is Now Training for Fight

JACK'S TRAINING QUARTERS

GREAT FALLS, Mont., May 28.—Spirits of Lewis and Clark haunt Jack Dempsey's training quarters. Shades of the gallant explorers, who blazed the white man's trail through the great northwest, hover over the spot where the champion is pummeling his sparring partners. Here 119 years ago these daring pioneers made camp. Just a mile above on the banks of the swiftly rushing Missouri, where the Cascade county poor-farm stands today, they smoked the pipe of peace with hostile Indians. Grizzlies were encountered on a little island half a mile from the scene of Dempsey's camp on July 4, 1804. So Lewis and Clark called the island "White Bear." That has been its name ever since. But there is even more history behind the present "Dempseyville." A century after Lewis and Clark had come, Old Brewer Volk, known for miles around, was there brewing his hops. It was his grandson, Charley Volk, who closed the deal with Dempsey for the property. The old brewery burned down some years ago. A roadhouse sprang up in its place. The old orchestral piano still was in the living room when Jack moved in. Now the inner dance hall is a rubbing room and bath. The outer hall is a gymnasium. With Jack are his two brothers, John and Bernard.

EXPECT 60,000 TO SEE BOUT

Kilbane and Criqui Meet for World's Featherweight Championship

Though Kilbane Has Not Fought for Two Years He Is Picked to Win

Detachment of Former Polius to Escort Criqui to Ring

NEW YORK, June 2.—The combat for the featherweight boxing championship of the world late today in the Polo Grounds between Johnny Kilbane of Cleveland and Eugene Criqui of Paris, stands as one of the most interesting in the absorbing records of pugilism. A crowd of 60,000 is expected to see the battle.

Kilbane, a gray-headed man out of the west, witty, brainy, fast, clever; Criqui, a genuine Parisian, a soldier who bled for his country, smart, quick, hard-hitting; both are old as ring gladiators go, Kilbane confessing to 31 and Criqui being 25.

There will be a detachment of former Polius who fought with Criqui when he held his place at Verdun, where he left part of his jaw with a German shell—a jaw that has been replaced by a sheep's—to escort him to the ring and cheer him on in the name of France. Criqui's picturesque career, his victory over destructive circumstances, has made him the sentimental favorite.

Kilbane, who has a war record, too, will have a sentimental following, but his great host will be professional followers of boxing, who have made him a lopsided favorite. Though he has not fought for two years and Criqui has won his last 21 fights by knockouts, Kilbane is the expert choice.

Both men were confident today. Kilbane has not trained as hard as his opponent but he said he never has been in better shape. Criqui, who is credited with a harder punch but with less boxing ability than Kilbane, said his condition was perfect. He said he expected to win with a knockout.

Less "balloony" has attended the preparations than for any recent fight of similar proportions—both have kept quiet; but the Polo Grounds is expected to be filled by fight fans who anticipate a bout that will be a speedy, smashing battle from the first going. Both probably will weigh under 126 pounds, and their other physical measurements will be nearly identical.

Kilbane Favorite in Paris

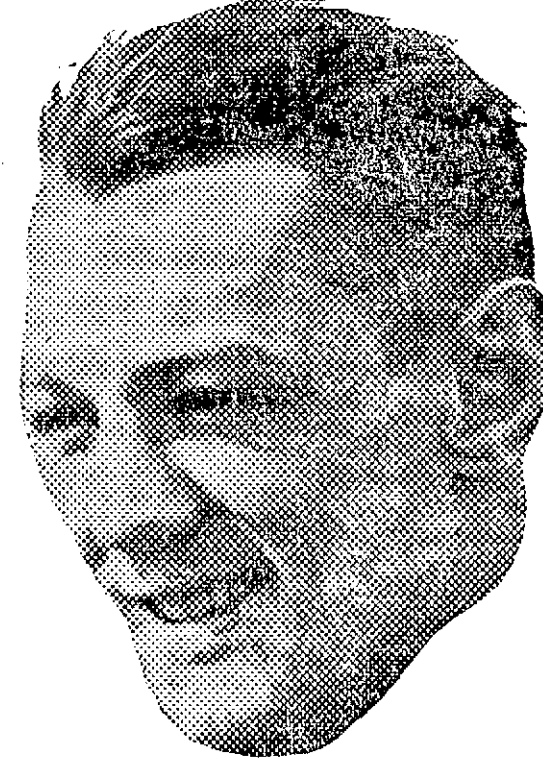

PARIS, June 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Eugene Criqui still has plenty of sentimental backing among the boxing fans of the Parisian boulevard but as the hour for his bout for the world's featherweight championship in New York approached today his admirers who last night were willing to bet even money, found so much Kilbane money among the hard-headed, disinterested sport fans that they began to ask odds. Thus this afternoon the odds were running against the Frenchman in the local betting as high as 5 to 3 or 5 to 2, for most of the wagers made.

Interest in the bout is scarcely less keen than in the Dempsey-Carpenter battle. Criqui's admirers are having their hopes particularly for the supposed "knockout punch" lurking in the Frenchman's right and Kilbane's advanced age.

Memories of "Yellow Day" Revived

BOSTON, June 2.—Memories of the famous "Yellow Day" of September 6, 1881, were revived today when for several hours after dawn the sky was darkened by a solid cloud mass with a deep yellow tinge. Later the color changed to grey, with the sun hanging like a fiery red ball. During the night the moon appeared of a rich red color. At the weather bureau it was said that there was no storm in sight to account for the clouds and the opinion was expressed that the phenomenon was due to a combination of smoke in the upper atmosphere from the forest fires in Ontario and Minnesota, and lack of wind to carry off the usual city smoke.

Jim Jeffries Thinks Gibbons Has Good Chance To Win

BY JACK JUNGMEYER N. E. A. Service Writer

BURBANK, Calif., June 2.—If Dempsey lost in the best condition possible on July 4 there's a good chance that Gibbons will whip him. "I'll know he's been in a fight, anyway," Jim Jeffries washed out this statement without preliminary sparring when I had tracked him down in his alfalfa field at the Burbank ranch to get his comments on the Shelby battle. He had just finished a workout with irrigation pipes and a lot of rocks that needed picking.

"I'm judging Gibbons' caliber wholly from what I've been told about the boy. You understand, I've never seen him in action. Never saw Dempsey in the ring either, for that matter. But I'm not in any way belittling Jack when I say that Gibbons will give him a fight."

"Tommy is fast and clever. He has two hands. He can take on and give. I know of no one else who can stand up to Dempsey."

"It'll be a far better fight, I'm sure, than the Dempsey-Carpenter scrap. As I repeat, Dempsey will have to be in the pink of condition to defend his title."

Jack has topped over the big ones because they were slow. He fights pretty open. Tommy Gibbons is just the kind of a boy to take advantage of that. And from what I hear, he's got the punch that'll do the business to be there."

BALL GAMES THIS AFTERNOON

Lowell High Plays Manchester at Alumni Field—Textile vs. Fitchburg

Silesia Team Plays Somerville

Civics—Abbots Meet Boston P. O. Team

Manchester high's baseball team was the guest of Lowell high at Alumni Field, formerly Spaulding park, this afternoon. The visiting team came to town with a strong aggregation of ball tossers and with a long string of victories. Lowell, after putting up such a brilliant game against Lawrence high last Thursday afternoon, was in the pink of condition and Coach Liston sent Littlefield to the mound to turn back the fast New Hampshire boys.

Manchester has, perhaps, the best high school team in the Granite state as its season's record will bear out. Lowell was forced to recognize Manchester's superiority in football and basketball this season, but felt confident of showing the way in today's baseball game. Littlefield, who started on the mound, has won every game he pitched this season.

Textile vs. Fitchburg

Lowell Textile's baseball season was brought to a close with the starting of the game with Fitchburg. Normal on the Textile campus this afternoon. Although going through a rocky career schedule this year, Textile has, at times, displayed a winning brand of ball and with a little more of the luck of the game, known as the "breaks," would have made a more lasting impression.

Starting in with a 3-5 tie with Holy Cross, which has lost but one game out of 23 starts, Coach "Bob" Farley's men met with several reverses before regaining their stride again. Several contests were lost by small scores, but the team came back into its own last Wednesday by plugging a defeat on St. Michael's college outfit, of Vermont. Ray Farwell was in the points today with Olsen behind the bat.

Silesia Plays Somerville

The Silesia Mills baseball team of North Chelmsford and the Somerville Civics provided the feature sporting event in North Chelmsford this afternoon when the two teams lined up on the Silesia park diamond. The North Chelmsford team used practically the same lineup that proved victorious in the opening game last Wednesday afternoon. Among the players who participated in that contest were Walter Boye, whose three bagger in the final frame won the game, "Eddie" Cawley, Jim Brennan, Andy Walsh, Frank and John Gilmore, Joe Duffy, and Lee Frank Greenhough, a twirler of extra-

GRAMMAR SCHOOL BOYS IN LIFE SAVING TESTS

Representatives from the various grammar and junior high schools competed today in the Y.M.C.A. swimming pool for the right to undertake the Red Cross course of instruction for life-saving which is to be held there next week.

Each boy had to swim 100 yards, do a plain dive, swim 50 ft. on his back, do the side, breast and crawl stroke. Capt. Robert R. Miller, field representative of the Red Cross, will direct the test at the "Y."

Those who qualified were as follows: Morse school, William Thomas, Richard Knowles; Bartlett school, T. Koukon-Jakos, Spiros Ekanomou; Pawtucket school, Arthur Beland, Ray Hebert; Varnum school, Ray Slack; Washington school, George McDonald, Fred Holmes; Green school and many of the local clubs are to furnish delegates who will take the course of training under Capt. Miller to qualify as life-savers.

This was but the opening event of the training for life-savers by the Red Cross. In addition to the grammar schools, the high school and many of the local clubs are to furnish delegates who will take the course of training under Capt. Miller to qualify as life-savers.

Ordinary ability, good the rubber when the ump called play.

Bibbott vs. Boston P. O.

Another suburban game which attracted considerable attention from local ball enthusiasts was the Bibbott-Worsted-Boston P. O. tilt in Graniteville. The strength of the Abbots needs no explaining. Their playing in past years with practically the same lineup that is being successfully used this season, is the best guarantee of their worth. The Boston team is one of the fastest and best known in New England and met the Abbots this afternoon with a formidable array of ball tossers.

Games Next Week

The local Twilight league next week will witness games between Centralville and Knights of Columbus on Monday night; Highland Daylights and Y.M.C.A. on Friday; and Broadways and South Ends, Wednesday.

Lizzie Murphy's team will play the Highland Daylights on the Textile South Ends, Wednesday.

NEW AIRLINE ROUTES

To Provide Transportation
Between Business Centers
and Beaches

BOSTON, June 1.—A system of airlines to provide commercial transportation between the business and industrial centers and summer resorts of New England, is being planned for by the Boston Chamber of Commerce. It was learned today. Steps are being taken for the formation of local aviation committees and the building of aviation fields in various cities and towns. The chamber has been assured of the co-operation of the army air service and of the Navy and district of the National Aeronautic association, it is said.

Boston has an airport under construction, to be completed by July 1. Hartford, Conn., Burlington, Vt., Brunswick, Me., and Springfield, Vt., already have aviation fields. A committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce has reported that airplane pilots and ground personnel are available. Among the proposed airlines are routes connecting Boston and New York, Boston and Bangor, Me., and Boston and Albany.

U. S. ENVOY TO SIGN PACTS WITH TURKEY

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The informal treaty conversations proceeding between Joseph C. Grew, American minister to Switzerland, and the Turkish delegates at Lausanne, have been advanced to the stage of formal negotiations. The state department announced last night that it had cabled full powers to Mr. Grew to negotiate and sign a treaty or treaties of amity and commerce with Turkey.

While the conclusion of such negotiations, the department's announcement said, still depended upon a satisfactory adjustment of outstanding questions between the two countries, it was understood that the preliminary conversations had served to round out a substantial agreement as to the general principles to be embodied in the new treaty.

PRIEST SHOT BOY FOUND ROBBING POOR BOXES

DETROIT, June 1.—Rev. Father Michael G. Esper, pastor of St. Boniface Catholic church, early today shot and slightly wounded Harold Smith, 14, of Sudbury, Wis., as the boy made a dash for liberty, after, it is alleged, he was caught in the act of robbing poor boxes in the church.

The priest told the police that he was awakened by an alarm bell. The priest took a revolver and entered the church where he says he found the lad with two poor boxes, each containing a small amount of money, in his hands. He was conducting the lad from the church to the parish house when the youth made a break for freedom.

The priest told officers he did not intend to shoot the boy, declaring he merely was attempting to bring him to a halt. He fired three shots at the boy, one grazing his arm and knocking him down. The boy was turned over to the police.

BILLION DOLLAR OFFER CALLED SUMMER DREAM

WASHINGTON, June 1.—A thorough investigation has convinced the shipping board, Chairman Lasker announced today that there is no prospect the bid of more than a billion dollars made by John W. Slack of Silver Creek, N. Y., for the board's merchant fleet, would ever be executed if it were accepted.

An inquiry on the subject was conducted by the shipping board in conjunction with other government departments with which Mr. Slack has had business transactions with the result, Mr. Lasker said, that the offer had been definitely classed as a "summer dream."

The conclusion will be communicated to the special committee of the shipping board now sitting in New York and before which Mr. Slack has been invited.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 13

Jack could hardly keep from laughing when he got a close view of several of the Skinnies. "Can't we stop and talk to them?" he asked Flighly. "Oh, my no," came the reply. "If we stop our Flying Horse, we can't get him going again and then we'll have to live away up here for all time to come."

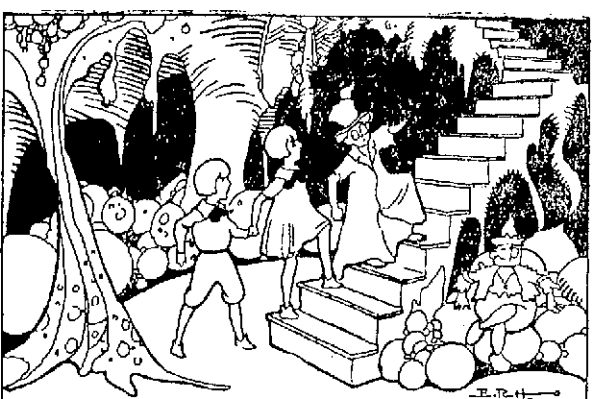

The idea of staying on so steep a mountain didn't appeal to Jack, so he was satisfied to wave to the Skinnies as he sailed by them. And then, almost as suddenly as they appeared, the Skinnies disappeared. When the last one was out of sight the Flying Horse started going right up the side of the mountain.

"Now we'll climb right up to the very peak," shouted Flighly. And in no time at all the Flying Horse was sailing gracefully over the highest point of the mountain. "Now let's go down the other side," said Jack, and he almost lost his balance when the Flying Horse swooped downward. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

There was a little secret stairway to climb. Raggy Land, where the Raggies lived being under the top of the ground, there was a little secret stairway to climb when one wished to come up into the daylight of outdoors. So when Mister Tatters sprang lightly up the steps, Nancy and Nick followed. They were on their way to Farmer Brown's cornfield to fix up Mr. Scarecrow for the summer. Right after the twins came Rag Tag and Bob Tail, two other Raggies, who were to keep watch while they worked so that no one should surprise and stop them. They went single file over the fence and across Bright Meadow and up the hill and through Old Orchard, and by and by they came to Raggy Land. "There's Scarecrow," pointed Mister Tatters. "I should say he does need a new spring suit," and he pointed to a limp looking object in the middle of the field. "Now then, Rag Tag and Bob Tail, you stay here and watch, and the rest of us will get to work."

Now then, Bag Tag and Rob Tall, stay here and watch, and the rest is will get to work."

On Tuesday, June 5, a class of sixty-three members, including two women, will be graduated from the Lowell Textile school, the exercises being held in Southwick hall. The present class of graduates is one of the largest to complete the curriculum of studies at the biggest textile school in the world and President Charles H. James feels justly proud of the achievements of the class in the past four years.

During the year just closed, the affairs of the graduates were capably handled by the class officers, consisting of Everett Vernon Steele, president;

Walter Francis Wheaton, vice president; Newton Gary Hardie, secretary-treasurer; George Paul Feindel, representative to the executive board. Everett Vernon Steele came to Lowell from Marshfield, where he makes his home. During the war he served with Admiral Sims as an ensign and saw considerable service in foreign waters. At Lowell, he was prominent in theatricals and has served efficiently as president of the Alembic society, and secretary of the fraternal council.

Walter Francis Wheaton is a native of Worcester and he also saw service with Uncle Sam's ocean fleet during the war. He has held the vice presidency of the engineering society at Lowell and the editorship of "Text," the official Red and Black literary organ. Newton Gary Hardie came all the way to Lowell from Birmingham, Ala. For three years he was a valuable asset to Lowell's athletic teams, being a shining light in baseball, football and basketball. He has also distinguished himself as a talented thespian in Lowell productions.

George Paul Feindel gives North Wilmington as his legal address. Before registering at Lowell, he attended Massachusetts Agricultural college, transferring to the local institution four years ago. He played football during his sophomore and junior years and was a star chemistry scholar. He will remain at Lowell temporarily as assistant instructor in his favorite science.

First Case of Violation of Dry Laws Since Gov. Smith Signed Repeal Dismissed by Magistrate

LOCAL OPPOSITION TO PROJECT TO MAKE MERRIMACK NAVIGABLE FROM LOWELL TO SEA

It was learned today that there will be local opposition at the Washington conference on June 13, to the proposition to make the Merrimack river navigable from Lowell to the sea, although the exact form it will assume has not been definitely decided. It is understood the opposition will be from the standpoint of excessive cost to the city in the matter of providing terminals and docks. In connection with this, it is interesting to know that according to the engineer's report of the 1914 conference, the city government of 1913 voted that the city should provide for public use such terminals and public landings as the commerce of the river should demand. As far as is known, this resolution, now ten years old, still is in effect, inasmuch as it never has been repealed, and unless some contrary action should be taken, the city would be required to provide such terminals should the rivers and harbors' commission decide to widen the river channel and make the stream navigable as far as Lowell.

Gov. Smith of New York Wipes Mullan-Gage Act Off Statute Books

Denounces Half of One Per Cent Standard as "Work of Fanatical Drys"

NEW YORK, June 2.—Governor Callaghan, arrested charged with possessing 110 gallons of wine, was discharged today by Magistrate Goodman on the ground that the court had no jurisdiction since the arrest was made after Governor Smith signed the repeal of the Mullan-Gage state prohibition enforcement act.

Magistrate Goodman ordered the policemen who arrested Callaghan to take him before a federal commissioner.

The case was the first of violation of the dry laws to come before a state court since Gov. Smith signed the repeal.

David Rosenberg, arrested for alleged violation of the Mullan-Gage act two hours before the governor signed the repeal was held in $2000 bail for examination.

No Chance of Becoming President
NEW YORK, June 2.—Governor Smith's signature on the repeal of the Mullan-Gage act has killed his chances of being nominated for the presidency but has strengthened his political standing in the state, William M. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league of New York declared today.

"Governor Smith," he said, "is done so far as the presidency is concerned. He has not a chance in a hundred of nomination, nor one in a thousand of election if nominated, but in the race for governor of New York state today or in the fall of 1924, he would defeat any wet republican so badly as to be pathetic."

Triumph By People
WASHINGTON, June 2.—Repeal of New York's state prohibition enforcement law was characterized by headquarters of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment today as a triumph by the people over the Anti-Saloon league.

Mullan-Gage Law Dead
ALBANY, N. Y., June 2.—The Mullan-Gage state prohibition enforcement bill is dead.

Governor Smith killed it last night.

CITY SOLICITOR SAYS $10,000 POLICE ORDER PASSED OVER MAYOR'S VETO IS ILLEGAL

In the opinion of City Solicitor Patrick J. Reynolds the order transferring $10,000 to the police department for the appointment of additional patrolmen, passed by the city council over the mayor's veto, is illegal. This ruling has been made on a request submitted to the law department by the city auditor, who had been advised by the mayor that he held the order to be illegal.

In his opinion the city solicitor cites two cases in which the supreme court has upheld chief executives in similar matters.

What effect the solicitor's opinion will have on the standing of the order is problematical, but the mayor has stated he will approve no payrolls embracing names of new patrolmen and has advised the city auditor to present no such payrolls to him for approval. This would seem to be an effective block, regardless of the ruling expressed by the law department.

A copy of the solicitor's opinion to the auditor follows: June 2, 1923. Mr. Daniel E. Martin, City Auditor, Lowell, Massachusetts. Dear Sir:—In reply to your letter of May 29, requesting the opinion of the city solicitor as to the legality of a certain order passed by the city council, "purporting to transfer some $10,000 from the General Treasury," a copy of which order you enclosed in said letter, I wish to advise you that in my opinion this order is illegal.

In support of my opinion I cite for your information the cases of Flood vs. Hodges, 231 Mass. 252; Shannon vs. Mayor of Cambridge and others, 231 Mass. 322. Very truly yours, PATRICK J. REYNOLDS, City Solicitor.

This is an annual affair of the school and members of the alumnae as well as the present students will attend.

Tomorrow morning at 10:15, the baccalaureate sermon will be preached in St. Anne's church. The students of the school and the faculty will attend in a body, two electric cars having been ordered to transport them from the school to the church and then back to the school again. At 5:30 tomorrow afternoon, vesper service will be held in the school hall and following this supper will be served in the garden at 6:15. At 8 o'clock there will be a song contest between the Glee and Kappa clubs.

The big event on a long program.

PUBLIC SERVICE BOARD

Boston Concern Gets $19,000 Contract—Alleged Mixup in Specifications

By a vote of two of its members the board of public service this afternoon recommended that Simpson Bros. Corp. of Boston be awarded a contract to furnish bituminous paving material to the city this year.

The meeting developed considerable discussion relative to an evident mix-up in the matter of specifications sent out originally and corrections made later and in view of this Fred G. Leary refused to vote on the question of contract.

Chairman Dennis J. Murphy and George Bowers, however, voted in favor of Simpson Bros. Corp.

The contract calls for the furnishing of 10,000 square yards, more or less, of bituminous paving material and in dollars and cents will amount to approximately $19,000, based on the winning bid of $1.90 per square yard. The contract was awarded to Simpson Bros. Corp. of Boston.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Exchanges $56,000,000; balances $23,000,000.

BOSTON, June 2.—Exchanges $24,000,000; balances $35,000,000.

NO PETITIONS FROM LOWELL

Signatures Secured Here on Party Designation Bill Cannot Be Used

Time for Filing Expired at 5 P. M. Yesterday, But Mr. Cronin Didn't Know It

With petitions embracing more than 100 names asking for a statewide referendum on the recently passed party designation bill ready to be filed with the Lowell election commission at 5 p. m. today, it was learned this forenoon that the last hour for filing expired at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and that the names secured after long hours of effort now have no value.

The work of securing signatures to the petitions in Lowell was in charge of Cornelius F. Cronin, representing Humphrey O'Sullivan, a member of the democratic state committee. Mr. Cronin said today he understood the last hour for filing was 5 o'clock this afternoon, but a telephone message from the office of the secretary of state substantiated the special despatch appearing in The Sun yesterday which stated that 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon was the zero hour.

Mr. Cronin had made all necessary arrangements with the local election commission to file the petitions at 4:15 o'clock today and naturally was disappointed.

At the annual commencement exercises of Holy Cross college, Worcester, on June 20, seven Lowell young men will receive the degree of bachelor of arts on the successful completion of the four-year course leading to that degree.

John C. Donohue is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Donohue of 26 Highland street. He was graduated from Boston College high school in 1919 and entered Holy Cross in the fall of that year. He has been very prominent in college activities and during his last year was president of the Merrimack Valley Undergraduate club. He intends to enter Boston University Law school in the fall.

Joseph A. Donohue is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy P. Donohue of 232 Moore street. He is a graduate of the Sacred Heart parochial school and the Lowell high school. He entered Holy Cross in the fall of 1919 and since that time his scholastic abilities have won him distinction at the Worcester institution. Law is the chosen career of Mr. Donohue.

and a number of young women who had been attending a meeting in the parish hall rendered valuable assistance to Fr. Somers in the work of removing various articles.

"MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS" BANQUET

A "mothers and daughters" banquet will be held by the Girl Reserve club of the Y.W.C.A. in Kitson hall, association building, on the evening of June 7.

This is the only event of the year where the mothers and daughters get together and it is also the closing event of the season. An address of welcome by a reserve to the mothers will open the banquet and one of the mothers will make a speech of acceptance. A candle service and toasts to mothers and girl reserves will bring the affair to a close.

The Girl Reserve club of the Highland congregational church will hold its installation of officers following at the church. The new officers are Miss Jean Palmer, president; Miss Annette Pease, vice president; Miss Eunice Dowell, secretary; Miss Edna Lawrence, treasurer; Miss Dorothy Carpenter, chairman of the service committee; Miss Lela Gildart, chairman of the social committee; and Miss Alice Kirk, chairman of the program committee.

The White Eagle club, composed of Polish girls, will give its first play although he is as yet undecided where he shall pursue his course.

Edwin F. Markham is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Markham of 73 Chauncey street. He is a graduate of the Lowell high school, class of 1919. Entering Holy Cross in the fall of '19, he immediately became identified with the social and scholastic activities of his alma mater. He is undecided what career he shall follow, but it is probable that business will claim his attention.

Charles E. McCarthy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ephrem Pelletier of 153 School street. Leaving the Bartlett grammar school in 1915, he entered St. Anselm's college in Manchester, N. H., and graduated from that institution in 1919, entering Holy Cross in the fall of the same year. Mr. Pelletier has distinguished himself at the Jesuit college through his contributions of prose and verse to the "Holy Cross Purple," of which he became an associate editor in his senior year. He was also art editor of "The Purple Patch," official year book of the college. He has chosen journalism as his profession.

Mayor John J. Donovan has already placed his official sanction on the project, but Mr. Miller, the Red Cross representative, is anxious to secure the endorsement of the city council as a whole.

With the official backing of the city council it is expected that the project to develop better swimmers and to teach the principals of first aid will be given added impetus. Several organizations throughout the city have appointed committees to spread the gospel of the benefits derived from a knowledge of swimming.

WHIST PARTY IN AID OF ST. MARGARET'S

A most enjoyable whist party was held at St. Peter's orphanage last evening, under the auspices of a committee of ladies from St. Margaret's parish, headed by Mrs. Mary Welsh.

The object of the party was to raise funds to defray the expenses of the parish lawn party to be held at the Casino on June 28, and a tidy sum was realized.

There was a large attendance and a series of interesting and closely contested games of whist occupied the attention of those present for two hours. The prizes were donated by Rev. Charles J. Galligan, M. J. Gorman, Mrs. P. Ryan, Mrs. J. Kearns, Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. M. Walsh, Mrs. J. Connor, Miss M. Sexton, Mrs. J. R. Sargent, Mrs. Sharkey, Mrs. McCarthy, Miss Riley and Mrs. J. Foxe.

The prize winners were Michael Dalry, Paul Bannister, Mrs. Geo. Crawford, William Burns, Florence Crotte, Mrs. Frank McCarthy and James McCoy.

CONCERT BY PUPILS OF MISS EVA LEQUIN

Mrs. Eukenia Tessier Stroh, the blind prima donna, who has sung in this city on several occasions, will be the feature attraction at the annual concert of the pupils of Miss Eva M. Lequin, teacher of piano, which will be held in Colonial hall, Middle street, tomorrow evening.

Mrs. Stroh's beautiful soprano voice has been heard in this country and abroad in concerts and operas and her success in the musical world has been marvelous. Several years ago, while on a visit in this city, the prima donna sang at St. Jean Baptiste church and on other occasions she has taken part in local concerts. The artists arrived in this city yesterday and will remain here until Monday as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Calixte Lequin of 124 Dalton street. She is being accompanied by Miss Anne Conner and Miss Edwina Vinas of Holyoke.

Men Must Resign to Get Compensation

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Members of the naval reserve force must resign or be discharged from the service in order to receive further disability compensation under the war risk act, under a ruling of Comptroller General McCarl, announced today by Director Hines of the veterans' bureau. Heretofore reserve men have received the compensation. The comptroller general based his decision on a section of the war risk act, which provides that compensation shall not be paid "while the person is in receipt of service or retirement pay." Members of the reserve force who have been transferred to it after 16 to 20 years' service will not be disqualified from receiving compensation, however, it being held that their pay then becomes reduced retired pay which will not be affected by the ruling.

To Present Antiques to British Museum

LONDON, June 2.—The late Earl of Carnarvon's private collection of antiques which included some of the most valuable Egyptian relics will be presented by his wife to the nation for the British museum, says the Daily Mail. Lady Carnarvon thereby sacrifices the prospect of greatly adding to her wealth, for the earl's will stipulated that if she decided to sell the collection, the British museum should be accorded the first chance to refuse it for £20,000. This sum is said to be far below the real value of the treasures. The newspaper asserts that the prospective gift to the nation will include whatever part of the treasure found in Pharaoh Tutankhamun's tomb is allotted to Carnarvon's estate by the Egyptian authorities.

German Dyestuffs and Nitrates Seized

PARIS, June 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Confiscations by the French of dyestuffs and nitrates at Strasbourg, Oppau and other places are said to more than cover the deliveries required of Germany under the Versailles treaty. The French estimate that they will realize 200,000,000 francs from the dyes seized at the various plants of the Badische Anilin works. British and Italian representatives on the reparations commission were present at the seizure of the materials, representing the requirements of their countries.

Germans Sentenced to Serve 646 Years

BERLIN, June 2. Sentences imposed upon individual Germans by French and Belgian courts martial from the time the Ruhr was occupied to the middle of May included a total of more than 646 years' imprisonment, and fines amounting to 1,314,544,000 marks and 2850 francs, according to the Allgemeine Zeitung today. In addition there was one sentence of death and another of life imprisonment with hard labor.

Had Nervous Indigestion

This Springfield Woman Found Quick Relief When She Used the Tonic Treatment

"I had nervous indigestion for about four years," says Mrs. S. Lewis of No. 58 Tilton street, Springfield, Mass. "I first noticed that I was losing flesh and felt miserable much of the time. I had severe nervous spells. I suffered from pain after eating, especially in my left side. I saw Dr. Williams' Pink Pills recommended in the papers and gave them a trial. I noticed improvement while I was taking the first box and took four boxes altogether. I can truthfully say that the pills have certainly helped my stomach and that I feel better than I have in a long time and I shall use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills whenever I need a tonic."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an ideal tonic for nervous people because they are non-alcoholic and nervous patients should avoid alcoholic stimulants.

Two useful books, "Diseases of the Nervous System," and "What to Eat and How to Eat," will be sent free by Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., if you mention this paper. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or will be sent by mail, post paid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box.—Adv.

HE'S ONLY U. S. OFFICIAL WITHOUT A BOSS!

(By N.E.A. Service)
WASHINGTON, June 1.—Probably the only man in the United States—at least in government circles—who is absolutely his own boss is J. R. McCarl, a Nebraskan.

McCarl is controller general of the United States. His business is to head the general accounting office which holds a restraining finger over the spending of Uncle Sam's money.

McCarl holds office 15 years and he's accountable to nobody—not even the president. If he proves negligent or inefficient, however, congress can remove him.

Already the wide authority given to McCarl has brought him into conflict with cabinet officers who resent any outside interference with their departments.

Secretary of the Navy Denby, for one, got hot under the collar when McCarl directed a navy disbursing officer to get back the money involved in an overpayment of compensation to an enlisted man.

McCarl also had a clash with Fall while the latter still was in the cabinet.

But McCarl goes serenely along saving money for the taxpayers. Others can heat and howl all they want to quit—

McCarl's his own boss!

FIRE STARTING IN GRASS THREATENS CHURCH

A threatening blaze occurred at St. Columba's church in Mammoth road last evening. The quick discovery of the fire and the prompt arrival of the firemen prevented the flames from spreading and the fire was confined to the outside stairs, which were destroyed.

The fire is believed to have been caused by a lighted cigarette thrown in the grass near the church. The grass caught and the fire quickly spread to the stairs. An alarm was sounded from box 71, at the corner of Mammoth road and Woodward avenue, at 9:02 o'clock and fireman John J. McManmon, who happened along at the time, rushed to the church and was endeavoring to remove the stairs when other members of the department arrived on the scene. Chemical lines were used but it was found necessary to tear down the stairs in order to prevent the flames from spreading to the building proper.

Before the fire department arrived, Rev. James M. Somers, who was in the rectory when the fire was discovered, rushed into the church and removed the Host and sacred vessels from the church to the rectory.

ROYAL S. COPELAND IS SOME SENATOR.

BY EDWARD THIERRY
(N.E.A. Service Staff Writer)
NEW YORK, June 2.—What problems of government is Mr. John Cope-land interested in most?
"Those things," says Senator Royal S. Cope-land, "which he kicks about most. I know, because I have opened a Senatorial Kicking bureau."
And these, Cope-land finds, are the four chief problems in the eyes of the average citizen who has kicks against the government:
1. Immigration.
2. Soldier welfare.
3. Tariff.
4. Prohibition.

"Yes, in the order named," said the new junior senator from New York. "Lots of other things, too. It's amazing how many people have kicks against the government."
Dr. Cope-land—he says he'd rather be called Doc than Senator—shocked politicians, as well as citizens, an unaccustomed to such public service, by opening an office in a Broadway skyscraper for the sole purpose of receiving people who want to talk about their troubles.

Room 2202, Fisk building, has this unostentatious inscription: "Royal S. Cope-land, Walk In." It isn't his medical office, for that's uptown at his house, where he puts in a couple of hours each morning seeing patients. At 11 he is at Room 2202, and until 5 he works as a United States senator, eating lunch off a tray of his desk, playing cards, Sam to a stream of callers and directing nine stenographers who help him answer upwards of 300 letters a day.
"People like to kick," said Cope-land. "They like to think of senators and congressmen as their servants, listening to their troubles, hearing their suggestions, advising them and consulting them. The government is infinitely, and they don't like that. They want it symbolized in a human being—a sort of living Uncle Sam. That's why I opened my New York office, because everybody who has a kick to register with Uncle Sam can't afford a trip to Washington."

Cope-land said the government pays salaries only of four clerks in his office in the senate building at Washington. He says he expects his salary of $7500 a year will cover only his living expenses. And New York office rents are high!

"Most of the kicks I get are absurd," said Cope-land. "Many are legitimate, a few are pathetic. I can't help most of them, but I can solve many problems. Even if I can't solve them, it helps them a lot to know somebody is willing to listen—and that helps Americanization and discourages discontent, and perhaps in some cases even kills potential seeds of anarchy."

Cope-land was city health commissioner of New York until he became senator March 1. He says senators and congressmen ought to work at their jobs even when congress isn't in session.
"I got this idea of opening a Kicking bureau," he said, "after watching the senate in action last November. The senate resolution was on two discussions and out of 96 senators the maximum attendance that day was 18, the minimum seven and the average 21!"

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
Excellent Bill, Headed by the Great
Leon, Will Be Offered for the Coming Week

Tomorrow's bill at the B. F. Keith theatre will once more demonstrate just how classy Sunday entertain-ments are at this theatre. Jack Nor-ton & Co. will be the feature films, and after them will come "Senator" Ford, Lloyd & Piske, Neil O'Connell and Bevan & Flynn. Two brand new acts will be on the bill for the day also.

Next Monday, opening the final week of vaudeville at this theatre, will see an act presented which comes here direct from the Keith Palace theatre in New York. Leon & Co., marvellous comedy illustrators will comprise this act. One of the most mysterious com-edy tricks while Leon will perform is that in which he shoots a long spike through the body of his woman as- sistant, and to this spike there is at- tached a long ribbon. Leon has been offered almost fabulous sums for the secret of this trick, but he has steadfastly refused all of them. While per- forming this illusion in India, several years ago, Leon was offered $5000 to reveal the secret of this trick, but he has steadfastly refused all of them. While per- forming this illusion in India, several years ago, Leon was offered $5000 to reveal the secret of this trick, but he has steadfastly refused all of them.

George Rockwell and Al Fox will be present on this bill with their mellow nutty act. The twain are a remarkable pair of ad lib funmakers, who have a lot of original stuff to offer.

Dat Barrett and Nora Cunneen in "Looking for Fun" are sisson-pure comedy and music makers who are rated as among the very best en- tertainers on the circuit today.

Frances Arms, who has been featur- ed in big productions, will give a series of song types. Miss Arms is not only a talented but she is reputed to be one of the most beautiful women on the vaudeville stage.

"All in the Spirit of Jazz" is the title of the turn which Jack La Vier, noted monologist, will present and Walthour & Princeton are a snappy pair of sing- ing and comedy performers. Tabor &

Green will give "A Lesson in Gram- mar," which is largely comedy, with some singing.

Week after next "Down to the Sea in Ships" will be the big presentation.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
"Brass," Charles G. Norris' Novel of Married Life, With Monte Blue, Feature Next Week

The screen version of Major Charles G. Norris' novel, "Brass," with Monte Blue portraying the role of Philip Rad- win, comes to the Merrimack Square theatre tomorrow for four days. This is the story which is enjoying un- interrupted vogue by its realistic treat- ment of marriage and divorce.

The picture is said to retain the vividness characteristic of the novel. The setting of the story is in sunny California, first in a prosperous rural community, then shifting to bustling San Francisco, where most of the ac- tion occurs.

The queer domestic life of the young married Baldwins is the theme around which the story is spun. Philip is an earnest, idealistic young man, who during the day that he toils for the home of evenings, while his wife Mar- jorie, a quaint slip of a girl, doesn't see why having a baby should keep her away from cabarets, gay boon companions and a generally good time.

They get divorced, each goes separate ways, falling in love both in the end, and is developed in a whirlwind climax.

"Brass" is a Warner Brothers classic of the screen, directed by Sidney Franklin. Monte Blue's supporting cast consists of Marie Prevost, Harry Myers, Vera Lewis, Irene Rich, Frank Krenan, Miss DuPont, Margaret Sed- don, Helen Ferguson, Edward Johnson, Harvey Clark, Cyril Chadwick, Pat O'Malley, Gertrude Bennett and Ethel Grey Terry.

Monte Blue has the featured role in this Warner Brothers classic of the screen. He is ideally cast for the role; his struggles through diverse fields to top rank in picture work coincides with the struggles of Philip Baldwin, the principal character in the story, to a rank among the busi- ness successes of his city.

Back in 1914, a little war started in Europe, which rumbled on into the greatest struggle the world has ever known. The same year, in Hollywood, a man started a struggle for screen success, which has rolled on until to- day he is a star, the goal he had in mind. He entered D. W. Griffith's studio as a common laborer at $1.50 per day; now he makes almost a thou- sand times that much in a week. The story of his success reads like a roman- tic fairy tale, but it is no fantasy of

Alburch, Vermont.
"For three years, I was troubled with Constipation, would go for days with- out a movement; depended upon pur- gatives. My condition was growing worse, my whole system being affected by the absorption of impurities.

Various remedies and treatments proved worthless. At last, it was my good fortune to get hold of "Fruit-a-tives." They completely relieved me of chronic Constipation and removed all distressing symptoms due to this com- plaint.

"Send anyone to me who doubts the value of 'Fruit-a-tives'."

N. K. MARTIN.

Auto-intoxication is blood poisoning, due to Constipation or non-action of the bowels. Impurities, which should leave the body every day, remain in the system for three or four days at a time. This waste matter poisons the blood, and the poisoned blood in turn poisons every organ of the body. According to leading authorities, this is responsible for hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure, severe headaches, pain in the back, kidney trouble and much of the stomach trouble caused by gas.

"Fruit-a-tives," made from fruit juices and tonics, will always correct Constipation and protect you against Auto-intoxication. 50 a box, 5 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At dealers or sent by the mind; rather it is a cold-fact story of struggle, work and study. There will be no increase in price for this big production. The usual big surrounding program will be present- ed.

THE STRAND

Donn Byrne's Story, "The Strangers' Banquet," Will Be the Attraction at the Strand First Four Days of the Week

"The Strangers' Banquet," that striking American novel of a great shipyard, written by Donn Byrne, will be seen at the Strand for four days, beginning Sunday. It has been filmed by that master producer, Marshall Neilan, in association with Goldwyn Pictures Corporation. The use of a centre shipyard was obtained for film- ing the exteriors. Neilan, his actors, and hundreds of workmen at the yards made use of them after working hours, for weeks. This philosophy comes to Lowell hailed as the greatest picture made by Neilan. He devoted many months of painstaking work to picturing the famous story. In fact the pro- ducer admitted holding up the entire production for many months until he could get just what he wanted in every minute detail. The story is a thrilling and dramatic romance amid the busy yards of a great shipbuilding concern. The founder, Shane Kough, leaves the fortune he has accumulated through the yards to his two children, John and Lucille. There are many "strangers" who wish to feast at the golden banquet and the story is of their partial success and final frustra- tion. The romance in the building of the great ships has been cast in this film and made the vivid background for a very human, emotion-arousing drama of American life. It has an angle of appeal for every lover of pic- tures and is told as only such a mas- ter artist as Neilan can depict it. Beauty, imagination and reality are mingled into a romance and compelling whole which no one can ever forget. Apart from the worth of the story and production, the cast gathered in it is a magnificent one for every lover of pic- tures. Claire Windsor, Hobart Bos- worth, Rockliffe Fellowes, Nigel Bar- rie, Claude Gillingwater, Eleanor Boardman, Ford Sterling, Stuart Holmes, Margaret Loomis, Cyril Chad- wick and many others have important roles. A brief survey of this list should convince the average patron that at least in cast it is of world-wide con- sequence. See it Sunday in connection with the regular vaudeville.

"Gossip" is the thing that can de- stroy any state of happiness, so nat- ural how secure it may seem. Harmony will turn into discord at the breath of "Gossip" and contentment will de- velop into a mass of sour acid. "Gos- sip" is the vice that is exploited in satirical fashion in the picture of that title which comes to the Strand Mon- day, Tuesday and Wednesday, in con- junction with "The Strangers' Ban- quet." Gladys Walton is the star and it presents her with a role that affords her exceptional opportunity to reflect her every talent. As a southern girl, charmingly innocent of the general advance of the times she is quite out of place in the jazzy whirl of modern social and business life. "Gossip" is based on the popular story. When Carey came to town, Miss Walton has a capable cast assisting her.

For the last three days of the week Hope Hamilton in "The Lights in the Park" and Katherine Macdonald in "The Indel" will be featured. In the former Miss Hamilton is assisted by Lon Chaney and a notable cast while Miss Macdonald is assisted by Robert Ellis, Joseph Dowling and others of screen note.

A word to the patrons concerning Strand comfort. It's always cool and comfortable at this theatre, made so because of the spe- cial ventilating system which allows a change of air every few minutes and the possibility of keeping the temper- ature at least 15 or 20 degrees lower than the summer heat of the street. Comfort brings contentment. Try it at the Strand.

RIALTO THEATRE

Douglas Fairbanks, versatile screen performer is the leading attraction of the Rialto theatre for Sunday's attractions. He is appearing in one of his greatest successes, entitled "His Majesty, the American," and it is one of the most laughable productions in which the great star has ever appeared. Another big attraction on the same program has Alice Calhoun in "One Night's Night," and this too, is worthy of considerable mention. The other attractions on Sunday's program include a snappy comedy and the Pathe News.

Women wearing knickerbockers in- dicate trousers are not for men only.

BEAUTY EXPERT TELLS HOW TO KEEP YOUR FACE YOUNG

Attention Must Be Paid to Lines
In the Neck To Keep Face Young

BY MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN
International Beauty Expert

The neck needs fully as much attention as the face, for long before the face shows signs of age, the throat indicates its approach.

I always say to my patients, "Judge how young you look by your throat and hands and don't wait for your face to give you away."

If you get horizontal lines across the neck or dry patches below the lobes of your ears, don't hesitate a minute before beginning an anti-wrinkle treatment on your face.

Methods of treatment for the neck are in many ways the same as for the face, but as the neck is bound to come in contact with water when you take your bath, you must be rather more liberal in your use of cream upon it.

Many actresses famed for their beauty apply cream before entering the bath and protect the throat from the water and soap which is often injurious.

A thin neck, which shows a tendency to wrinkle, must be massaged nightly with a tissue building cream which should be patted gently into the skin.

The woman who has a tendency toward superfluous flesh and who finds her chin doubling or tripling on her has a really serious problem to contend with.

Massage for the double chin should be done with very heavy strokes which will break down the fat cells. Astringent lotions should be applied frequently to tighten the skin. Slapping the chin briskly with the back of the hand also breaks down the fat formation.

As soon as a woman loses her contour, when her lines become indefinite or heavy, and when she no longer presents a clean-cut outline, her claim to youth is gone no matter how good a case the calendar may make out for her.

Never before have women had such a keen appreciation of the beauty of line. A generation ago the woman who dieted and kept her figure down was the exception. Today, practically four women out of five who have come into their thirties are dieting.

Diet is one of the first steps toward beauty. The woman who will restrain her appetite and indulge in hours of exercise to preserve her figure will also give to her face, hands and hair the care they demand.

Every day, in every way, women are becoming more and more beautiful.

No gallery of feminine beauty is complete without the face of Ethel Barrymore, who probably comes nearer than any other woman to typifying the American ideal of womanhood. Though her features are lovely indeed, and her coloring superb, one has always the feeling that her real beauty comes from within and is only the reflection of her character.

CREAMED POTATOES AU GRATIN

BY BERTHA E. SHAPLEIGH
Of Columbia University

Have three cups finely chopped, cold boiled potatoes. Sprinkle with one teaspoon or more of salt, one-half teaspoon paprika and one-eighth teaspoon pepper, and cook in three tablespoons butter, stirring until the butter is melted. Then add two tablespoon hour and stir until it is thoroughly mixed, the potatoes, and cook in three tablespoons butter, stirring frequently for 15 minutes.

Turn into a baking dish which can be served at the table, cover with one-half cup grated cheese mixed with one-half cup fine bread crumbs. Bake 20 minutes, having crumbs and cheese delicately brown when taken from the oven. Serve very hot.

WHITE MOIRE COATS
Coats of white moire are shown for formal wear. Some of them are trimmed with bands of white fur, others are guilottes of any trimming, relying solely upon the smartness of their cut.

SILVER FOX
Silver fox is the fur of the moment. It is ideal for wear with any type of frock, but particularly with the graceful costumes of dark silk of the tailleur of elegant line.

MANY SIZES
A gown of dotted Swiss varies its dots in size from small ones that can scarcely be seen to others as large as quarters. Collars and cuffs of pleated organdie trim the frock.

WANT QUICK ACTION? New Job Open to Women Who Would Make Drudgery a Delight, Says Teacher

Atlanta Leader, Busy as She Is, Will Get It For You

MRS. E. M. BOYKIN

By N.E.A. Service
ATLANTA, Ga., June 2.—Whenever you want anything done, go to a busy person and you'll be sure of quick action. In Atlanta, therefore, you go to Mrs.

E. M. Boykin for any civic or other local reform—and you may depend on her to find time to get things done.

Mrs. Boykin is president of the Atlanta Woman's club, and is largely responsible for the palatial clubhouse which is a challenge to women's clubs throughout the country. But that's only one of her minor accomplishments.

"We should have better motion pictures for our children," wailed the mothers of Atlanta. "Some of the pictures they see are entirely unsuitable for the impressionable mind of the school child."

Children's Matinees
"Then we'll get better pictures and support them," replied Mrs. Boykin. So she organized a better film committee composed of parents, teachers and welfare workers and arranged for them to preview all films sent to Atlanta, to select pictures best suited for the children's matinees which she arranged to have held each Saturday morning in the local houses.

Then the children themselves were permitted to help in the year of the program and sometimes to act in the pictures. Educational films which would correlate with school work were obtained and the music for the program explained the week before in school.

The result is a children's weekly matinee that is one of Atlanta's greatest prizes, in which any mother may send her child each week and know nothing objectionable will be shown. But the work did not stop here.

For Growings Too
"We found that growings needed better films as well as the children," Mrs. Boykin explained. "So we have published our recommendations of what the pictures that are to be shown the following week. We have no affiliations with any company, are unbiased in our judgment and people trust us."

"A picture we recommended is almost sure to do good business and one we find objectionable rarely does. That shows people want good pictures and to make money the exhibitor must provide them."

"Our opinions are observed not only in Atlanta, but throughout the south. Often I receive telegrams from exhibitors a thousand miles away, asking the opinion of our committee on certain films. We have promoted the best of feeling between the theatre owners and the public they serve and we hope are mutually helpful."

BROMLEY-SHEPARD BEAUTY SALON

Around the corner from the Y.W.C.A.

The most up-to-date and restful place north of Boston

BY MARIAN HALL
NEW YORK, June 2.—The efficiency expert is needed more in the kitchen than in the factory.

Mrs. Newton C. Wing, head of the home economics department of the Atlanta Women's club, is speaking. Stopping here, she gave me her ideas on the "job" of keeping house and how it could be lightened considerably by a little planning.

"The place where most women do a large part of their work and spend many hours a day is too frequently designed with no thought for comfort to say nothing of beauty," she told me. "If housework is to be transformed from drudgery to delight, the revolution must start in the kitchen."

"The ideal kitchen is small, but not crowded. The walls should be covered with washable material such as tile, enamel or any washable paint. The floor should be covered with linoleum, well waxed."

"The stove, table, sink and other pieces of furniture should be grouped according to their use so that extra steps may be avoided."

Even dishwashing may be relieved of its terrors if it is done according to the most scientific methods, she maintains.

Time Gained
"The sink, with its two large drain boards, should be placed next to the dining-room or pantry," Mrs. Wing advises. "The dirty dishes should be placed on the right-hand drain board where they may be picked up by the dishwasher's right hand, scrubbed under running water by a brush in the left hand and then put into the dishwasher."

"Into the hot dishwasher should be put one tablespoon of washing powder. Use a dishcloth and place the dishes in a drain at the left. By the time you are ready to go to the kitchen and cooking dishes, they will be dry and can be put into the china closet, out of the way."

"Draining the dishes, scalded by boiling water, is more sanitary than wiping them with a dishcloth."

"Sinks and tables are usually much too low. They should be high enough so that without stooping one may touch the inside floor of the sink with the flat of the hand. For the average person about 36 inches is the correct height."

Steps Saved
"The stove should be next to the dining-room door, across from the sink, to facilitate serving. Thus a tea wagon can be used to take food directly from the stove to the dining-room and also to bring soiled dishes from the table to the sink.

"On the opposite side from the stove should be the kitchen cabinet and working table."

"If the kitchen is sufficiently large

there should be a rest corner with a desk and bookcase above for working on kitchen accounts and keeping books, thus utilizing the spare moments which often occur in the kitchen while meals are cooking."

Mrs. Wing has several hundred women in her classes, many of whom are recent brides.

Girl Genius Produces Music for Flower Festival—Mother Writes Verses

EDNA L. LARKIN AND HER MOTHER, EDNA IN A FIELD OF TULIPS.

By N.E.A. Service
BELLINGHAM, Wash., June 2.—

When Bellingham celebrated its annual tulip festival recently, little nine-year-old Edna L. Larkin was the proud heroine of the occasion.

For it was her own tulip love song that thousands sang during the three days of the festival, and the gentle words of her mother that soothed her ears.

Edna is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edmund F. Larkin of this city. From early childhood she developed a love for music, and when she showed talent at improvising tunes, her parents encouraged her. She has grown so proficient with the bow, that now, at the age of nine, she plays first violin in the D'Aureville orchestra and in the junior orchestra of the Bellingham Normal school.

First Success
"Tulip Love"—the rollicking waltz sung at the festival—is Edna's first big success, although she had been submitting bits of her genius to her parents ever since she felt music in her system. The tune came to her when she was twirling at the piano—another of her accomplishments—and her mother was away.

When Mrs. Larkin returned, Edna showed her the song. Mrs. Larkin was so impressed by it that she sat down and wrote verses for it.

But little Edna didn't like her mother's first attempt. So Mrs. Larkin had to resume her efforts until she got what her daughter finally agreed bespoke the thoughts she expressed in her music. It was the romance and courtship of the spring flowers.

The completed song, to little Edna's music, is this:

Tulip Love
Come, let us go a-Maying, o'er the hills where tulips grow.
There dainty flower maidens dance while the gentle breezes blow.
Daffodils and jonquils, flower lovers hold.
They come to woo with honeyed words and offering crowns of gold.

Refrain
Come, dear tulip, dance with me, love shall never grow cold.
Oh, let me press your crimson lips to my loving heart of gold.

Chorus
Come to the tulip's wedding on the verdant village green.
There the golden daffodil is wedded to his queen.
Bumblebees the parson, frogs their music tell.
While the busy honeybee serves supper on the hill.

PINK ROSES
A hat of very fine black Milan has a cluster of pink roses placed at the right side. A veil of very fine black lace softens the cloche billow.

HOT DISHES
Have a supply of holders in your kitchen for handling hot dishes. Otherwise you will find yourself using dishcloths which may burn over the flame.

WALL PAPER
In a south room use a light gray paper, with possibly a rough finish, which is an excellent background for almost any type of interior decorating. In a north room use yellow, tan or some warm tint.

DON'T FORGET WRAPS WHEN YOU GO BATHING THIS SUMMER

If You've Sleeves at All,
They Must Be Bizarre

You'll Find You're Out of Style at the Beaches
If You Should Forget Your Wrap When You Go Bathing

Pleats, Ruffles, Smocking,
Trim Summer Frocks

Where sleeves exist at all on summer dresses they are startling, bizarre or gaily frilled. Present or absent they are the important thing about the season's styles.

The long tight sleeve has added ruffles from wrist to elbow. The otherwise sleeveless frock is shown with a circular band attached to the dress and crossing the arm several inches below the shoulder. Long wide sleeves vary their lines by being cut to gracefully drooping points.

Skirts draped continue in favor and pleated panels are seen more and more as the season advances.

WILL OBSERVE ANNUAL COMMUNION SUNDAY

Members of the League of Catholic Women will observe their annual communion Sunday at the 5.30 o'clock mass in St. Patrick's church tomorrow. A musical program, in charge of Mrs. Joseph W. Green, with John Kelly, organist, will be carried out during the services. Miss Ellen F. Lynch will sing "Ave Verum" at the offertory and at the communion Miss Florida Delany will sing Bishop Delany's "Come to Me, Jesus." Hymns will be sung by the girls' choir of the Notre Dame academy and the congregation.

The ushers at the church will be Mrs. John E. Saunders, Miss Mary D. Lane, Mrs. David Mahoney, Miss Jant McEort, Miss Nellie Bourke, Miss Mary T. Lynch, Miss Alice T. McCarthy and Miss Kivlan.

FOR YOUNGSTERS

Washable China silk in checks and plaids and polka dots is used to make frocks for small children. The lining is very soft and some bit of trimming repeats the color in the design.

PLEATED CAPE

The cape of finely pleated crepe which ties about the shoulders and reaches well below the hips is very fashionable now and is very easy to make.

When you dress up in your fancy bathing suit, this summer, and are all ready to go out to the beach to watch the waves—don't forget your wrap! For it will be a breath of beach fashion to go without one this year. In fact, the wrap is considered quite as necessary as the bathing suit itself.

TESTIMONIALS FOR DUGART

In the palaces of Europe and the beautiful homes of America, the importance of music has brought appointments and purchases of the Aeolian pianos, pianolas and the Dugart. Recent appointments have been received from His Holiness, Pope Plus XI; Her Majesty, Mary, Queen of England; Her Majesty, Elizabeth, Queen of the Belgians; Her Majesty, Victoria-Eugenie, Queen of Spain. The following cablegram recently received by M. Steinert & Sons, 130 Merrimack street, this city, representative here, from the Aeolian company, Ltd., London, is self-explanatory:

"We are gratified to advise you that we have received an order for a Dugart Art Piano from Her Majesty, the Queen of England. The instrument has been installed in Buckingham Palace."

The Aeolian company testimonials praising the Aeolian instrument have come from international opera stars such as the late Caruso, Melba, Calve, Farrar, Schumann-Helk and many others. It is not possible to publish here the many letters of appreciation received during the present times from people of prominence, but it is a well known fact that distinguished persons in all walks of life have acclaimed the supremacy of the Dugart.

FOULARD FROCKS

A foulard frock with a smart tiered skirt is smart enough in itself, but it becomes doubly so when combined with a light wool coat lined with the same material of the frock.

PAINTED SILK

Painted silk frocks are a novelty this season. The paint is applied with a brush to give a raised surface. The frocks are cut on the straight chemise pattern and only loosely caught about the waist with a sash of plain silk.

the street wrap. Some of them, as the one shown in the center above, conform in design with the bathing suit. But that isn't essential.

What is important is that it be worn on the way to the beach. Else you're not in fashion.

RIBBON ONLY TRIMMING

Frequently the only trimming used on summer dresses of light silks or cottons is ribbon. The ribbon may be very narrow—metallic, program, two-toned or figured—or it may be very wide—moulre for preference—but it is used to make a dress that would otherwise be severely plain, individually pretty and desirable.

Ribbon is used in strips like braid. It is sewed into flat rosettes, used for long sashes and bouffant bustle-bows or placed in an enormous choker at the waist. Hats to match have rows and rows of ribbon covering their crowns or facing their brims.

ORGANDIE HATS

Large organdie hats, in blue, apricot and beige, have adjustable crowns and wide brims. The crown is secured with fancy pins.

WOOL EMBROIDERY

A great deal of wool embroidery is seen on cotton frocks as well as those of silk and wool.

COOKING FAT

Save and clarify all fat from cooking.

SERVING SOUP

Never serve heavy cream soups for a first course unless the second one is a light one of vegetables or fish.

WATER IN CAKE

You can often use water in mixing a cake instead of milk and find that the cake will be lighter in texture and less liable to scorch.

Average depth of the Pacific ocean is 12,440 feet and its greatest depth is 31,114 feet, near Guam.

This summer dresses achieve charming effects by the use of smocking, pleats and ruffles. Linen was the material used for the straight-line dress with full-length pleats sketched in the illustration. The new side-closing is attractive and the frock with its long, plain sleeves and narrow belt has an air of simple and fashionable.

Very short sleeves make the contrast dress attractive for hot weather and the shoulder smocking breaks the severity of the bateau neckline.

Smocking is used on the other frock, too, and its softness is complemented by tiers of frilly feminine flounces. Or, again, is still the favorite fabric for these ruffled gowns and printed cottons or silks are used for the untrimming straight-line dresses.

ENTERTAINMENT IN NORTH BILLERICA

A large and appreciative audience attended the presentation of "My Irish Rose," given last evening in Thomas Talbot Memorial hall in North Billerica by talent of the Father Mathew Total Abstinence society. The play was given under the able direction of J. Frank Mullin, who has had considerable experience in similar performances in the town, and all the parts were well sustained.

Between the acts pleasing specialties were given by Norma Conroy and Rena Brown, Grace Dunagan, John Maxwell and Miles Finnegan, Mary A. Healey, Henrietta E. Mullin, Ellen Wigglesworth and Anna T. Hayes. Those who took part in the cast were Miles Finnegan, Edward Barton, Rowland Conway, Howard Conway, John B. Maxwell, Edward Gannon, Helen C. Hayes, Mary A. McCarthy, Katherine Kearney, Margaret M. Roberts, Mary Collins and Katherine A. Condon.

There are nearly 500,000 women farmers in the United States.

January was named after the two-headed Roman god, Janus.

The Looker-on in Lowell

Visiting the main postoffice during the past week, I found the place teeming with people. Repairs and improvements have been going on for several weeks, causing much inconvenience on the part of postoffice employees. It was during the rush hours of the afternoon that I went in to see Joseph Alcega, superintendent of mails, and I found him busy supervising the moving of certain equipment out of the way of the contractors. The post-office looked more crowded and muddled-up than I had ever seen it.

If people who have big mailings every day, or frequently, could only see how crowded the postoffice is during the latter part of the afternoon when the bulk of the day's mail is received, they would surely take pity on the postoffice employees and put into practice the slogan, "Mail early and often." With such masses of mail and parcel post matter, it is surprising how efficiently the clerks sort it out and keep everything straight.

North vs. South
A statement issued recently by the National Bank of Commerce in New York concerning the development of the cotton manufacturing industry in the United States, gives interesting facts relative to the advance of the south and the alleged decline of the north.

It attributes the great gains of the cotton textile mills in the south to their accessibility to the raw material, lower taxation, and cheaper labor to which may be added longer working hours.

Weighted against these facts are the advantages the north has in proximity to the market for their goods; a quality of goods superior to southern mill products which is attributed largely to the skill of operatives here. Southern mills have for a long time consumed more cotton than the northern mills, the National Bank of Commerce says. Previously the larger consumption was attributed to the coarser yarn spun in the south, but statistics show that the heavy consumption is due to a much bigger total of active spindle hours in the south.

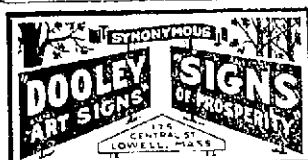

A significant feature of the southern textile industry is, that the medium sized mill employing from 50 to 500 hands prevails, most of the large mills being located outside of the cotton growing states.

Weekly cotton mill wages have regularly been lower in the south than in the north; but the difference is rapidly becoming less, according to the statement. In this New York bank. More is also done for employees in the south than in the north in furnishing cheap housing and other benefits which do not appear as direct wage costs.

The bank gives the following summary: "For the present, at least, mills can find cheaper labor which will work longer hours in the cotton-growing states than elsewhere, though the weekly wage is tending to advance more rapidly in the south than in the north. The southern labor, also, is acquiring more skill from year to year, so that the advantage in quality of product now possessed by New England may gradually disappear. Probably the most marked advantage of a southern location is the fact that longer hours of work prevail there, and that even though there is a movement toward shorter hours, changes so far have been less radical there than elsewhere."

1912 and 1923.

FITCH DECLARES MOUNT COMMITTED SUICIDE

LUDINGTON, Mich., June 2. (By the Associated Press).—Roscoe Conkling Fitch of Ludington, was preparing to go to Chicago today to substantiate a story he told here yesterday to representatives of the state's attorney's office from Illinois to the effect that Leighton Mount, supposed to have been slain during a class rush at Northwestern university in 1921, in reality had committed suicide.

Fitch's statement, made in the presence of the attorney and his father, Virgil A. Fitch, prosecuting attorney of Mason county, is said to have given as the basis for the assertions the contents of a letter written by Mount to Doris Fuchs, a girl friend and reports said to have been stolen from the Burns Detective agency.

Set details of the statement were revealed to the Associated Press by the older Fitch who said he had persuaded his son to tell all he knew. According to the youth's statement the letter written by Mount to Miss Fuchs contained a threat of suicide, while the reports of the Burns agency were said to have contained information that Mount, two days before his disappearance, had transferred all of his money to the affianced husband of his sister Helen.

IMPORTANT BALL GAMES ON LOWELL AND SUBURBAN DIAMONDS

Veteran Pitcher Makes Big Start

GEORGE DAUSE

Is Dams Fortune about to smile on George Dause late in his pitching career?

George Dause for years has been a member of the Detroit staff of the American league. His pitching efforts have met with varying success. Never has he quite reached the heights of stardom.

I have always regarded Dause as one of the best pitchers in the American league. Perhaps no man connected with the game is in a better position to judge the worth of a pitcher than the umpire. Likewise no one is better fitted to make comparisons.

To me George Dause has always been a great pitcher. In baseball one is always judged on results. In the record book for a pitcher to attain the realm of stardom he must be a consistent pitcher.

Batters Fear Dause

Another way to get a line on a pitcher's effectiveness is to get the opinion of the opposing batters. American league players will tell you that Dause has as much stuff as any pitcher in the league and a much better curve ball than a majority. In addition most of them will tell you that they do not like to hit against Dause. That admission in itself is the best line one could possibly get on a pitcher. When opposing batters admit his style of delivery is such they do not wish to face him, it is a decided advantage. There you have the status of George Dause. With his curve ball and his fast ball he has a tendency to throw the batsman off his stride and make it a much more difficult matter to correctly time the speed of the ball.

Dause Is Great Pitcher

Dause has excellent speed, which he delivers with a peculiar side-arm motion. Side-arm pitchers are always troublesome. Coupled with a good fast ball, Dause boasts a fast breaking curve that is almost unhitatable when properly controlled. A fine change of pace tends to make his style all the more puzzling.

On every ball club, however, there seems to be one hard-luck pitcher. Dause has year after year occupied that position on the Detroit team. Fate always seemed unkind to him.

When Dause pitched light ball his opponent usually worked a bit tighter, as a result his teammates seldom got any many runs. In a pinch, an error made behind Dause invariably proved costly. It was always the same, the shenanigans in a majority of cases seemed to go against Dause and in a great many cases the breaks are the deciding factor in a ball game.

Getting the Breaks
Dause has seldom been an early starter. Usually he has had his trouble getting off to a winning start. This looks to be the big year for Dause.

In his first five starts he has been returned the victor. In each game he has pitched good ball, the brand that deserves to win but doesn't always come out that way.

In every game the breaks have been with Dause. Instead of frowning on him, as in the past, Dause has smiled on him most graciously. Dause is a great pitcher, deserving of several big years before he passes from the big show.

BALL GAMES THIS AFTERNOON

Lowell High Plays Manchester at Alumni Field—Textile vs. Fitchburg

Silesia Team Plays Somerville Civics—Abbots Meet Boston P. O. Team

Manchester's high school team was the guest of Lowell high at Alumni Field, formerly Spaulding park, this afternoon. The visiting team came to town with a strong aggregation of ball tossers and with a long string of victories. Lowell, after putting up such a brilliant game against Lawrence high last Thursday afternoon, was in the pink of condition and Coach Linton sent Littlefield to the mound to turn back the fast New Hampshire boys.

Manchester has, perhaps, the best high school team in the Granite state as its season's record will bear out. Lowell was forced to recognize Manchester's superiority in football and basketball this season, but felt confident of showing the way in today's baseball game. Littlefield, who started on the mound, has won every game he pitched this year.

Textile vs. Fitchburg

Lowell Textile's baseball season was brought to a close with the slugging of the game with Fitchburg Normal on the Textile campus this afternoon. Although going through a tough-turkey schedule this year, Textile has, at times, displayed a winning brand of ball and with a little more of the luck of the game, known as the "breaks," would have made a more lasting impression.

Starting in with a 5-5 tie with Holy Cross, which has lost but one game out of 22 starts, Coach "Red" Danley's men met with several reverses before regaining their stride again. Several contests were lost by small scores, but the team came back into its own last Wednesday by planning a defeat on St. Michael's college outfit of Vermont. Ray Farwell was in the points today with Olsen behind the bat.

Silesia Plays Somerville

The Silesia Mills baseball team of North Chelmsford and the Somerville Civics provided the feature sporting event in North Chelmsford this afternoon when the two teams lined up on the Silesia park diamond. The North Chelmsford team used practically the same lineup that proved victorious against the strong Milltowns in the opening game last Wednesday afternoon. Among the players who participated in that contest were Walter Poye, whose three batters in the final frame won the game for Silesia; Cawley, Jim Brennan, Andy Valais, Frank and John Gilmore, Joe Duffy and Lee, Frank Greenhalgh, a twofold of extra-

Lewis and Clark Once Camped Where Dempsey Is Now Training for Fight

JACK'S TRAINING QUARTERS

GREAT FALLS, Mont., May 28.—Spirits of Lewis and Clark haunt Jack Dempsey's training quarters. Shades of the gallant explorers, who blazed the white man's trail through the great northwest, hover over the spot where the champion is punning his sparring partners. Here 119 years ago these daring pioneers made camp. Just a mile above on the banks of the swiftly rushing Missouri, where the Cascade county poor-farm stands today, they smoked the pipe of peace with hostile Indians. Grizzlies were encountered on a little island half a mile from the scene of Dempsey's camp on July 4, 1804. So Lewis and Clark called the island "White Bear." That has been its name ever since. But there is even more history behind the present "Dempseyville." A century after Lewis and Clark had come, Old Brewer Volk, known for miles around, was there brewing his hops. It was his grandson, Charley Volk, who closed the deal with Dempsey for the property. The old brewery burned down some years ago. A roadhouse sprang up in its place. The old orchestral piano still was in the living room when Jack moved in. Now the inner dance hall is a rubbing room and bath. The outer hall is a gymnasium. With Jack are his two brothers, John and Bernard.

EXPECT 60,000 TO SEE BOUT

Kilbane and Criqui Meet for World's Featherweight Championship

Though Kilbane Has Not Fought for Two Years He is Picked to Win

Detachment of Former Polius to Escort Criqui to Ring

NEW YORK, June 2.—The combat for the featherweight boxing championship of the world late today in the Polo Grounds between Johnny Kilbane of Cleveland, and Eugene Criqui of Paris, stands as one of the most interesting in the absorbing records of pugilism. A crowd of 60,000 is expected to see the battle.

Kilbane, a gray-headed man out of the west, witty, brash, fast, clever; Criqui, a genuine Parisian, a soldier who died for his country, smart, quick, hard-hitting; both are old ring gladiators, Kilbane confessing to 31 and Criqui being 28.

There will be a detachment of former Polius who fought with Criqui when he held his place at Verdun, where he left part of his jaw with a German shell—a jaw that has been replaced by a sheep's—to escort him to the ring and cheer him on in the name of France. Criqui's picturesque career, his victory over destructive circumstances, has made him the sentimental favorite.

Kilbane, who has a war record too, will have a sentimental following, but his great host will be professional followers of boxing, who have made him a lopsided favorite. Though he has not fought for two years and Criqui has won his last 21 fights by knockouts, Kilbane is the experts' choice.

Both men were confident today. Kilbane has not trained as hard as his opponent but he said he never has been in better shape. Criqui, who is credited with a harder punch but with less boxing ability than Kilbane, said his condition was perfect. He said he expected to win with a knockout.

Less "ballyhoo" has attended the preparations than for any recent fight of similar proportions—both have kept quiet, but the Polo Grounds is expected to be filled by fight fans who anticipate a bout that will be a speedy, smashing battle from the first going. Both probably will weigh under 126 pounds, and their other physical measurements will be nearly identical.

Kilbane Favorite in Paris
PARIS, June 2.—(By the Associated Press).—Eugene Criqui still has plenty of sentimental backing among the boxing fans of the Parisian boulevards and as the hour for his bout for the world's featherweight championship in New York approached today his admirers who last night were willing to bet even money, found so much Kilbane money among the hard-headed, disinterested sport fans that they began to ask odds. Thus this afternoon the odds were running against the Frenchman in the local betting as high as 5 to 3 or 5 to 1, for most of the wagers.

Intense in the bout is scarcely less keen than in the Dempsey-Carpenter battle. Criqui's admirers are basing their hopes particularly on the supposed "knockout punch" lurking in the Frenchman's right and Kilbane's admirers on the left.

More than 30 applicants for chauffeurs and operators' licenses were turned away at city hall this forenoon, although 62 men and women were examined.

Memories of "Yellow Day" Revived

BOSTON, June 2.—Memories of the famous "Yellow Day" of September 6, 1881, were revived today when for several hours after dawn the sky was darkened by a solid cloud mass with a deep yellow tinge. Later the color changed to gray, with the sun hanging like a fiery red ball. During the night the moon also appeared of a rich red color. At the weather bureau it was said that there was no storm in sight to account for the clouds and the action was expressed that the phenomenon was due to a combination of smoke in the upper atmosphere from the forest fires in Ontario and Minnesota, and lack of wind to carry off the usual city smoke.

Jim Jeffries Thinks Gibbons Has Good Chance To Win

BY JACK JUNGMEYER N. E. A. Service Writer

BURBANK, Calif., June 2.—"If Dempsey isn't in the best condition possible on July 1 there's a good chance that Gibbons will whip him. Hell, I know he's been in a fight, anyway. I don't know if Jim Jeffries is in the best condition possible without preliminary sparring when I had tracked him down in his adrena field at the Burbank ranch to see his comment on the Shelby battle. He had just finished a workout with irrigation pipes and a lot of rocks that needed picking."

"I'm judging Gibbons' entire whiff from what I've been told about the boy. You understand, I've never seen him in action. Never saw him in the ring, either, for that matter. But I'm not in any way belittling Jack when I say that Gibbons will give him a fight."

"Dempsey is fast and clever. He has two hands. He can take an axe and a rock. I know of no one else who can stand up to Dempsey. He'll be a car lotter fight. I'm sure, then, the Dempsey-Carpenter scrap. As I repeat, Dempsey will have to be in the pink of condition to defend his title."

Jack has tumbled over the big ones because they were slow. He fights on a level. And from what I hear, he's got the punch that'll do the business to be there."

Amateur Ball

The Buffaloes took the strong White Eagle team into camp by the score of 7 to 4 Friday. The Buffaloes now claim the 14-15 year old championship of the city. Wednesday the Buffaloes defeated the "Pawtucket Stars" by the score of 3 to 1 in a hard fought 12-inning game. Therefore, defeating every team in Pawtucketville but being given them. Buffaloes lineup: Alford, Nichols, Brunelle, Trudel, Lappe, Boerge, Prescott, Ray, Kay. For games see Manager Dupes.

The Bay State Athletic club baseball nine won a fourth game from the International at the Walker street playground last night, when the Internationalists refused to start the scheduled game.

The manager of the White Stars requests the manager of the Merrimack to call him up tonight at 8 o'clock sharp in regard to the game Sunday.

The Lashen Juniors would like to play the Merrimack Juniors on the South common tomorrow afternoon. The Lashen Juniors have won five consecutive games and have yet to meet defeat. Games are wanted with 17-18-year-old teams. Answer through this paper.

The Buffalo Juniors defeated the Pawtucket Ponies on the Woodward avenue grounds last Sunday by the score of 40 to 2. The winners claim the 11-13-year-old championship of the city. For games, answer through this paper.

The Pawtucket Blues will play the Champlain A. A. on the Woodward avenue grounds tomorrow afternoon at 4:15 o'clock in the third of a series of five games. The series now stands one and one, but the Blues figure on repeating their first winning victory.

in a book entitled "Lowell: An Industrial Drama Come True," by Harry C. Meserve of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers, formerly a resident of this city as a boy. It is interesting to look over the family budgets and consider them in the light of present-day living standards.

The lowest average weekly income, which includes earnings of the husband from principal occupation, earnings of the children, if any, are at work, or other regular income of the family, is given as $7.60 for a family of four. On this basis, $12.00 for rent; $1.32 for food; and so on, making a total average weekly expenditure of $10.22, or in excess of the average weekly income. The high average weekly income quoted is $17.00 for a family of seven, or that amount $2.75 would be left for rent, $10.12 for food, etc., making a total of $13.17.

It is difficult to believe that people could have lived on any such incomes and seriously doubt whether the figures can be accurate as representing mild conditions of that time.

Skywriting a Monopoly
People who witnessed the aeroplane writing "on the sky" recently just over Lowell would be interested to know that "sky-writing" is a monopoly controlled by the "Skywriting Corporation of America."

Skywriting is exclusively owned and operated in the United States by this corporation which has purchased all U. S. letters patent and pending patent applications issued to, or owned, or filed by Major J. C. Savidge. The corporation issues the following warning: "The use of sky-writing, or the use of smoke or other visible trails emitted from an aircraft, and the apparatus used in connection therewith are covered by patents issued and pending in America and abroad. Vigorous action will be taken against infringement. It is a monopoly of the sky, and a monopoly of the sky without doubt."

Something for Lowell to do.
Baltimore, Md., has just adopted a zoning ordinance very similar to that which Lowell will adopt in time. The purpose of the ordinance is given as follows: "To divide the city into districts, regulating and limiting the use of the land, and building hereon, after erected and regulating and determining the area and depth of yards, and other open spaces, the number of families that may be housed per acre of land, regulating and restricting the uses of land and buildings, the location of trades, industries and dwellings, the location of buildings, and the location of streets, and regulating street names for the purpose of, and prescribing a penalty for the violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance."

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 13

Jack could hardly keep from laughing when he got a close view of several of the Skinies. "Can't we stop and talk to them?" he asked. "Oh, my no," came the reply. "If we stop our Flying Horse, we can't get him going again and then we'll have to live away up here for all time to come."

The idea of staying on so steep a mountain didn't appeal to Jack, so he was satisfied to wave to the Skinies as he sailed by them. And then, almost as suddenly as they appeared, the Skinies disappeared. When the last one was out of sight the Flying Horse started going right up the side of the mountain.

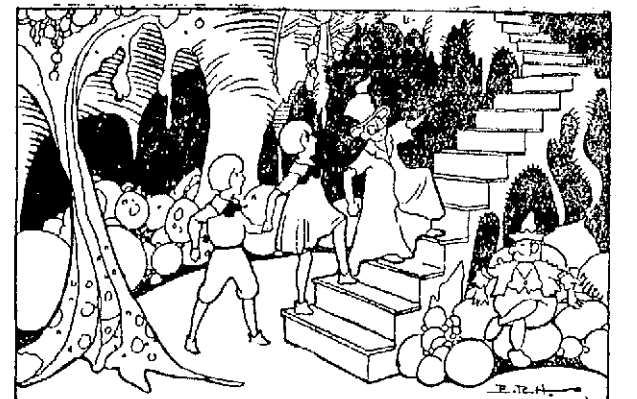

"Now we'll climb right up to the very peak," shouted Flighly. And in no time at all the Flying Horse was sailing gracefully over the highest point of the mountain. "Now let's go down the other side," said Jack, and he almost lost his balance when the Flying Horse swooped downward. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 5—OLD SCARE CROW

THERE WAS A LITTLE SECRET STAIRWAY TO CLIMB

Rag Tag and Bob Tail, where the Rag Tag lived, being under the top of the ground, there was a little secret stairway to climb when one wished to come up into the daylight of outdoors.

So when Mister Tatters sprang lightly up the steps, Nancy and Nick followed.

They were on their way to Farmer Brown's cornfield to fix up Rag Tag and Bob Tail, two other Rag Tags, who were to keep watch while they worked so that no one should surprise and stop them.

They went single file over the fence and across Bright Meadow and up the hill and through Old Orchard, and by the time they came to the cornfield, "There's a Scare Crow," pointed Mister Tatters. "I should say he does need a new spring suit," and he pointed to a limp looking object in the middle of the field.

"Now then, Rag Tag and Bob Tail, you stay here and watch, and the rest of us will get to work."

Then Mr. Tatters tiptoed to the woodshed, Nancy and Nick still close at his heels.

There stood an old broom handle that Mrs. Brown used to bent carpenter. "Bring that, Nick," commanded Mr. Tatters.

Next, he tiptoed to the buggy-shed. "Look," pointed Mister Tatters. "There's an old coat Farmer Brown put on when he rides to town. We'll take it, too. Now to the barn for some straw. Also there is an old straw hat out there one of the threshers left in the fall."

An hour later Farmer Brown called to his wife, "Manda, that old Scare Crow looks like Sandy Claus!" been found. "I'm goin' out and see what's happened."

"But you know, my dears, don't you? Don't you ever tell it to the Rag Tags and the twins that lived in the fall?"

$12,000 FOR WIRE REPAIRS

Special City Council Committee Acts on Fire Alarm
Signal System

Fire Department Electrician
and Inspector of Wires Will Supervise Repairs

After thorough investigation of the condition of the fire alarm signal system, the special city council committee will recommend the expenditure of $12,000 for wire repairs, to be spent under the direction of Capt. Thomas F. Conway, fire department electrician, and Charles L. Gallagher, city inspector of wires. A great deal of this money, if secured, will be spent in renewing main cable wires in Central street.

The committee, of which Pres. James J. Gallagher of the council is chairman, met at city hall late yesterday afternoon and agreed upon the absolute need of expending money for wire repairs and unanimously voted to recommend $12,000. The detailed recommendation will be presented to the city council at its meeting next Tuesday night, will be drawn up in the meantime by Inspector Gallagher and Capt. Conway.

When the committee originally was appointed, serious discussion relative to a new fire alarm system was at its height, but early in its investigations the committee felt this would be impossible this year because of its cost and an accompanying shortage of available money.

It is felt, however, that additional reliability can be secured by the repairs to be made under the $12,000 recommendation and that the antiquated system can be put in a fairly safe condition and tide the city over for the present at least.

Present at yesterday's meeting were Councilmen James P. Gallagher, John W. Daly, Maurice J. Lambert, Jr., and James F. Hennessey, Chief Edward P. Saunders, Inspector Charles L. Gallagher and Capt. Conway.

Considerably disturbed when he learned that the hour of filing had passed. The legislative act on which a referendum is sought, makes it impossible for a candidate for state or federal office to be designated on the ballot as a hyphenated democrat or republican without the consent of the state committee of either party, thus aiming to do away with such designations as republican-liberal, republican-progressive, democratic-progressive, etc.

To secure a state-wide referendum on the act, it was necessary to secure and file 15,000 signatures of citizens and voters and the 700-odd names secured in Lowell, if filed, would have been made a part of the total for the state. As it now stands, however, no Lowell petitions are included.

It was Mr. Cronin's contention today that the secretary-of-state was lax in his duty by not properly notifying election boards and commissions of the last hour for filing petitions and said he had every reason to believe 5 p. m. today was the final time.

UNVEILING OF MONUMENT

Plans Complete for Unveiling of Monument to Heroes of "Acre" District

Plans for the unveiling of the memorial monument in honor of the soldiers and sailors from the "Acre" district of the city are complete and the committee of the Broadway Social and Athletic club, which fostered the erection of the monument, announced today that nothing but an exceptionally heavy downpour of rain tomorrow afternoon would be allowed to interfere with their plans.

One change has been made in the routing of the parade. Instead of coming down Merrimack to Central, as was previously intended, the parade will swing up Dutton street to Kneeland and then to the monument. This change shortens the route of march considerably and will make it possible for everything to be run off expeditiously so that out-of-town guests may get back to their homes at a reasonable hour.

The parade which precedes the unveiling ceremonies will start from the corner of Broadway and School streets at 5 o'clock, and all organizations taking part are requested to be there by 5 o'clock at the latest so that they may take their positions. The ceremony at the monument will start at 6 o'clock and will last for about 2 hours.

Each one of the 55 sold star mothers, or fathers if the mothers are not able to attend, will assist in unveiling the memorial monument. It has been so arranged that each mother will hold a ribbon and when the order is given, a slight pull on these ribbons will unveil it.

It is expected that 250 soldiers and the 15th Infantry band from Camp Devens will participate in the parade and the local order of Elks has promised to act as hosts to this delegation at their rooms in Middle street following the exercises.

The G. A. R. members who are to participate in the parade will be carried over the line of march in machines, and the Broadway club would like to hear immediately from any persons who wish to contribute their machines for the afternoon.

Hardly a house along the line of march is not decorated and it is expected that thousands of residents of the city will turn out to see the parade and the unveiling, and the police department has promised ample police protection along the line of march and at the monument.

In addition to the organizations, military and civil, listed yesterday as taking part in the parade, it was announced today that Chief Saunders and his detachment of firemen, who are members of the Broadway club or who belong in the Acre district, would come just before the members of the club in the line of march.

Until the exercises are completed the district around the monument will be roped off and police officers will be on hand to keep the area clear. As soon as the exercises are over, however, the ropes will be removed and the people of the city will be allowed to get a close-up view of the monument.

RESIDENTS OF SOUTH END ARE INVITED

Residents of the South End have been invited to accompany the delegation of South End club members who will attend the dedication of the Acre Memorial, under the auspices of the Broadway Social and Athletic club to be held tomorrow afternoon, at four o'clock. The club members headed by Albin's band will form at the home of the organization at 1300 Broadway. It is hoped that a large number of the people living in the South End will accompany the organization to the exercises as the South End club in the immediate future will sponsor a memorial to the boys from their section who made the great sacrifice during the World war. A large attendance will insure the public support of the campaign to raise the money to finance this Memorial.

STRIKING MOLDERS HOLD MEETING

A largely attended meeting of the molders of the Saco-Lowell and Kittery foundries who are out on strike, was held this forenoon in Trades and Labor hall in Central street. Several committees were constituted and a petition on duty at the Saco-Lowell foundry reported that for the past few days the employees of the foundry have reported to work at 8 a. m. instead of 7 a. m., as heretofore. General organizer Vandergast of the International Molders' union of North America was present at the meeting and addressed the gathering. It was rumored that some men would be laid off at the machine shop of the Saco-Lowell today, but this was denied by one of the officials of the company, who stated that the rumor was unfounded.

MORE PROPERTY CHANGES HANDS

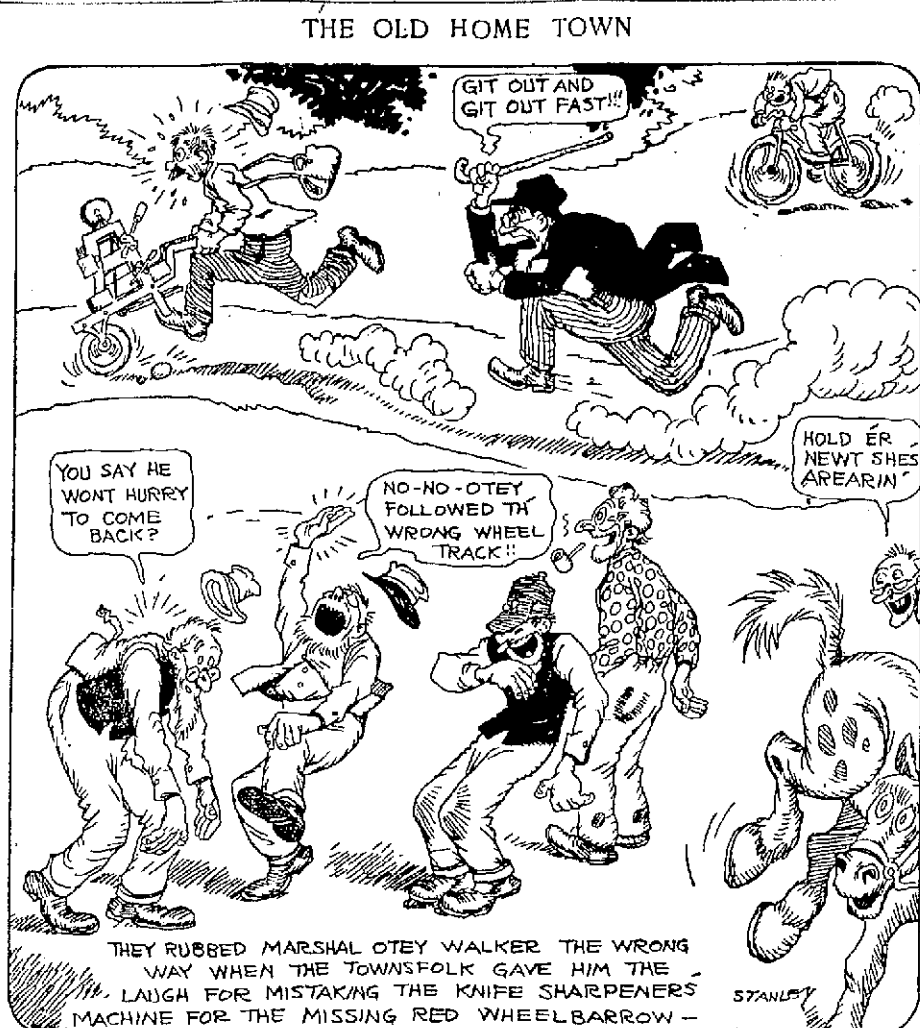

The property numbered 240-242 Allen street, owned by George E. Monaghan, was sold to Henry Porter. The property consists of four tenements and a large store occupied by bowling alleys.

William Cloutier has sold to Harry Healey the six-tenement block and 400 sq. ft. of land at 35-37 Palmyra street. Charles Boston has purchased 4 1/2 acre of land at the corner of Railroad street and Fifth avenue, from Jos. Bosse. Mr. Breton is planning to build a home on the site. These sales were effected through the office of Dinko & Paquette.

The dispatch from Tsao-chung said prospects were for the speedy release of the eight other foreigners imprisoned on Fanchukou mountain.

The international military commission reached Tsao-chung today and sent an airplane to reconnoiter the bandits' position.

The eight foreigners still held, at last reports, from the Shantung hills, included four Americans, Major Roland W. Pinner, ordnance department, U. S. A.; Leon Friedman of Chicago and Shanghai; John R. Powell, Shanghai newspaper publisher; and Leo Solomon of San Francisco and Shanghai. The others were Fred Ellis, a broker of Shanghai, and a brother of Edward Ellis, who was chased by bandits and rescued by H. H. Hoggart of Tsao-chung, both British; Emilio Cienfuegos, Shanghai broker; French; G. L. Mueser, lawyer and capitalist, of Shanghai, Italian.

The release of most of them was expected hourly, though it was considered likely that the bandits might hold two or three pending fulfillment of all the exactions demanded of the Chinese government.

The international military commission which reached Tsao-chung today is headed by Brig. Gen. William D. Connor, commander of the American troops in China. The diplomatic corps gave the command to a French band to make a report on the number and disposition of the Chinese troops protecting the districts bordering on the bandits' stronghold.

REV. DENIS A. SULLIVAN Jubilee Observance of Organ- izer of O. M. I. Cadets Will Begin Tomorrow

The elaborate celebration in connection with the silver jubilee of Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., organizer and chaplain of the O.M.I. Cadets, will begin with the shaking of a solemn high mass in the immaculate Conception church at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, with Rev. Fr. Sullivan as celebrant. Although the observance of the jubilee has been planned by former members of the O.M.I. cadets, the mass tomorrow will not be of a military nature and will be attended by the cadets informally.

The real celebration will get under way the following evening, Monday, in the Memorial Auditorium, when a special concert, arranged by the entertainment committee, will be given, and also a clever skit entitled "A Night at Milligan's Grove." Milligan's Grove in Wilmington has been the scene of the annual cadet campout for many years and it is planned to erect a full-sized tent with foliage surrounding it to make it conform to the grove as nearly as possible. This tent will be placed on the stage and the scene will be agreeably enhanced by beautiful lighting effects.

After the playlet, Fr. Sullivan will remain to meet his hundreds of friends, not only cadet alumni, but

In the southern part of the province, further east, in the province of Ontario, little improvement is noted in the forest fire sections. Serious blazes are reported at Lux, near Horner Payne, Coughlin, 10 miles east of here, and at Atikokan, just west of Port Arthur.

At White River, Ont., the village which has been threatened for several days, rain fell for half an hour yesterday but though it relieved the situation somewhat it was not enough to remove the danger.

London Papers Endorse Curzon's Protest

LONDON, June 2.—Lord Curzon's protests against the search for the bones of Pocahontas is endorsed by several London newspapers. The Daily Mail says that the excavations at Gravesend constitute an offense against good taste. The newspaper cannot understand why the home office gave permission for the work and hopes the digging will cease. The Westminster Gazette remarks at the inconsistency of affecting to be shocked over the Pouchouffes incident in view of the exhaustive plundering of Tutankhamun's tomb. The newspaper nevertheless sees no useful object to be obtained in finding Pocahontas' remains, and adds: "Remembering the civility she showed to Virginia, we are glad her bones are now likely to be left undisturbed."

ANOTHER POST OFFICE

Congressman Rogers Recommends Postal Station for the Highlands District

In a letter to the first assistant postmaster-general, mailed today, Congressman John Jacob Rogers calls this gentleman's attention to the fact that mail facilities in the Highlands district of the city, one of the largest residential districts in the city, are very poor and that he believes the only solution to the question is the establishment of a postal station in that district. In his letter he also states that the so-called "contract stations," which have been installed in various stores in that locality, have usually been failures, and that a complete postal station is the only remedy.

Congressman Rogers brought to the attention of the first assistant postmaster-general the fact that in the Highlands district of Lowell, Massachusetts, there are no postal facilities to accommodate the public. The reason for this, he says, is that the main office building to Chelmsford, Massachusetts, town line there are no stations of any kind for the mailing of parcels and general post office services.

"Occasionally so-called contract stations have been opened but in my opinion these do not provide the desired service. The communication has been so inadequate that the stores in which the contract stations were located have invariably abandoned them after a more or less brief trial."

"In my opinion the solution of the neighborhood problem is the establishment of a postal station with an established carrier's office, as provided for as deemed best by the department. "I may add that the Highlands district mentioned is one of the two or three major residential districts of the city and is growing rapidly. Nearly a fourth of the entire population in Lowell resides now in this locality. The postmaster, Xavier A. Bédard, when questioned today regarding his stand on this matter, stated that he would, if asked by the postoffice department for a recommendation, endorse everything in the congressman's letter, for he believes that the district will best be served by the establishment of such a station and he will, for therefore do everything in his power to further the movement.

London Papers Endorse Curzon's Protest

LONDON, June 2.—Lord Curzon's protests against the search for the bones of Pocahontas is endorsed by several London newspapers. The Daily Mail says that the excavations at Gravesend constitute an offense against good taste. The newspaper cannot understand why the home office gave permission for the work and hopes the digging will cease. The newspaper nevertheless sees no useful object to be obtained in finding Pocahontas' remains, and adds: "Remembering the civility she showed to Virginia, we are glad her bones are now likely to be left undisturbed."

PLAN CLEANER CITY CAMPAIGN

Permanent Drive Launched by City Planning Board Gets Big Boost

Publicity Committee Appointed at Meeting of Organization Representatives

Plans for a permanent cleaner city campaign, launched by the city planning board and taken up by other municipal and civic organizations' and boards, received considerable impetus yesterday afternoon when representatives of a number of such groups met in the mayor's reception room at city hall and appointed a publicity committee which will devise ways and means of placing the idea before the greatest number of people in the city in the most effective manner.

Included in this committee are: Thomas A. Atkinson, superintendent of police; Dr. Francis L. Mahony, member of the health board; Harry P. Doherty, superintendent of streets, and William Trotter, representative of the chamber of commerce. Others present at the meeting were Clarence M. Wood and Benj. P. Wood, of the planning board; Park Superintendent John W. Keenan; Thomas Ginty, principal of the continuation school; Edwin J. Melton, Lowell Boy Scout executive, and George Nash of the Lowell Gas Light Co. Miss Agnes P. Hennessey of the park commission office was appointed secretary of the committee.

The appointment of the publicity committee was the only action taken at the meeting, although the cleaner-city idea received considerable discussion, with every person present offering a word or two of suggestion. The purpose of the meeting was outlined by Mr. Wood, temporary chairman, after which Mayor John J. Conway was elected honorary chairman of the committee. The actual method by which the clean-up idea will be given wide publicity was left with the special committee appointed, but it was hinted that announcements in churches and schools might be of great aid. Supt. Atkinson said he read an order to the men of the police department several weeks ago relative to sweeping rubbish and dirt from steps into the streets, but felt it might be well to distribute leaflets to all housekeepers, explaining more fully what the committee has in mind.

Dr. Mahony read several city ordinances which have to do with the carrying of refuse and waste materials and the sweeping of any vegetable or dead animal matter into the streets without a license from the board of health. He also read a section of the ordinance which gives the chief of police the right to enter any house or store for the purpose of examining the premises or preventing any nuisance or source of filth.
